Part III Statement of Program Service AccomplishmentsCheck if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III ☐1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:

To raise awareness about the potential to reduce environmental harm by shifting electricity use to particular times; and to support the research, development and spread of common protocols for this practice.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 2,357 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 0)

Environmental Demand Response Research Program - This program involves WattTime directly conducting research and analysis of power grids, to develop software tools to calculate what times electricity is more or less environmentally friendly. (Sharing these tools with the public to enable the more environmentally friendly use of electricity then happens through our Education and Assistance programs.) In 2014 we made very significant research progress. Specifically, we: (1) developed a piece of software that automatically analyzes the approximate cleanliness of electricity in real time for any point in the continental United States; (2) developed a second software tool (known as an Application Programming Interface) that can share this information with other software developers to help them design equipment that shifts energy use to cleaner times; and (3) began research on a set of algorithms that could allow us to analyze more precise and sophisticated information about the cleanliness of electricity. Software development took place at a mixture of occasional weekend "hackathons" in which large groups of volunteers would collaborate on development, and more consistent progress by a smaller core of volunteers.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 8,145 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 0)

Environmental Demand Response Education Program - This program involves spreading awareness of the potential to reduce environmental harm by shifting electricity use to particular times. (Enabling the public to act on that awareness happens through our Research and Assistance programs.) In 2014 we made progress on education. Specifically, we: (1) Built a software tool on our website which allows people to see in real time the environmental impact of electricity in their region (you can see the tool at <http://api.WattTime.org/map>). (2) Maintained a software service which sent daily text messages to any interested users (there were approximately 50 by the end of 2014) about the cleanest time that day to use energy. (3) Spoke about the issue by giving 14 interviews to the press, and speaking with approximately 10 energy interest groups and classrooms on how time-shifting can reduce environmental harm. (4) Showed over a dozen other software developers how they can write software applications to reduce environmental harm using our Application Programming Interface. (5) Developed a set of information to answer common questions about the impact of time shifting to reduce environmental harm through time-shifting. (6) Spoke and gathered feedback from over 20 other energy experts and 300 other Americans about time-shifting and their needs and interests around the topic.

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 1,310 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 2,000)

Environmental Demand Response Assistance Program - This program involves supporting the development and spread of protocols for shifting electricity use to environmentally friendly times. (Conducting research to help make such tools possible, and spreading awareness of such tools, happens through our Research and Education programs.) In 2014 we barely started our Assistance program, which could not begin until our Research program was far enough along so that we had enough technical knowledge to conduct assistance properly. However, we were able to: (1) Begin the first ever demonstration project of how one could use automatic time shifting to reduce environmental harm by equipping 7 electric golf carts at the University of California, Merced with smart plugs that automatically charge the cars at cleaner times; and (2) Begin a very similar project at the University of California, Berkeley.

4d Other program services (Describe in Schedule O.)

(Expenses $ 0 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 0)

4e Total program service expenses 11,812

PART VI, Section A, 2: Colin McCormick, a Director, and Gavin McCormick, an Officer, have a family relationship.

PART VI, Section A, 8b: The organization had no committees.

PART VI, Section B, 11b: The form was filled out by Gavin McCormick, Executive Director. Gavin and the Chief Financial Officer, Nathan Davis then went over the form. It was then made available by email to the Board for review.

PART VI, Section B, 12: As per the written conflict of interest policy laid forth in our bylaws, periodic reviews of any potential conflicts of interest must take place. In practice the total volume of financial transactions in 2014 was so small that the Board was able to fully review every single potential conflict of interest in advance. No compensation agreement, partnership, joint venture or arrangement with management organizations occurred without full prior review from the Board that the arrangements met our conflict of interest policy. The Board made careful note that Executive Director Gavin McCormick's family relationship to Director Colin McCormick meant that Colin must not be present for any deliberations on compensation for Gavin. However, in practice in 2014 this did not arise because given our limited budget, no compensation or future compensation arrangement was ever proposed for Gavin.

PART VI, Section C, 19: All governing documents, conflict of interest policy, and financial statements were available to the public upon request. Executive Director Gavin McCormick kept electronic copies of all these documents, and the primary means of inspection was delivering these documents by email upon request. Gavin McCormick also kept physical copies for inspection upon request, but at no point in 2014 did anyone request a physical copy inspection.
