The supporting organization's sole function is to raise funds to provide supplementary financial support for the activities of the supported organization (Daviess County Public Library, the "library"). For over two decades, the two organizations have worked together to carry out various programs for the library and continue to raise funds to ensure the library's longevity.

PART IV, SECTION D ("ALL TYPE III SUPPORTING ORGANIZATIONS")LINE 2

The Executive Director and at least one board member from the library attend all of the meetings held by the supporting organization. They regularly discuss (among other things) with the governing body of the supporting organization how the two organizations can accomplish their common goals and further the library's exempt purposes, which includes: providing local residents the means to pursue lifelong learning, help local residents meet their recreational reading interests and to find, evaluate and use information in a multitude of formats, get answers to their questions, and better understand their personal and community heritage. programs which further its exempt purposes. For example, the library promotes early literacy in young children by bringing the library to local area preschools and daycares. The preschool outreach program encourages appreciation and raises interest in the written word by introducing pre-reading skills in a fun storytime environment. The storytimes utilize age appropriate books, songs and finger plays.

PART IV, SECTION E ("TYPE III FUNCTIONALLY-INTEGRATED SO")LINE 1c

The storytimes are geared toward preschoolers and help children understand what eventually they will read on their own. Currently, the library provides this service to over 34 local area daycares and preschools, reaching approximately 30% of community's children under age five. But for the involvement of the supporting organization, the library would normally conduct
