Keepers of the Capsule:

Sponsored in 2014 by Urban Sparks, Keepers of the Capsule is a non-profit organization established in 1990 to assist the guardians or "Keepers" of the Washington Centennial Time Capsule. The volunteer Keepers have pledged to preserve the time capsule and enlist new generations of Keepers every 25 years to support the capsule. This chain of stewardship will ensure that the time capsule reaches its final destination, Washington State's 500th anniversary in 2389.

The Washington Centennial Time Capsule was developed to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Washington's admission to the United States of America as its 42nd state on November 11, 1889. The time capsule is located in the rotunda of the state capitol in Olympia, Washington. The 400-year capsule is a 3,000 pound green safe that contains a series of 16 stainless steel individual time capsules which will be filled with new items every 25 years. All of the capsules are slated to be opened in 2389, the state's 500th birthday.

Healthy Habits, Labateyah Youth Home and Elders's Day Program:

Healthy Habits' mission is to improve the chances of these young adults moving out of homelessness and into healthy, prosperous lives. Healthy Habits is structured around a variety of presentations and conversations on healthful eating, exercise, disease prevention, and self-care facilitated by naturopathic doctor Jeff Metzger, and is dedicated to improving the lives of the youth residents and elders at the Labateyah center. To improve the quality of food available to the teens and elders, Healthy Habits has developed donation partnerships with the Ballard Farmers Market, PCC Natural Markets, Whole Foods, and others. The Eclectic Institute, Pharmax, Western Herbs, and Restorative Formulations have donated medical supplies as well. The program is making healthy swaps like homemade salad dressing for pre-packaged, artificial packets, and experimenting with more interactive presentations based on youth feedback. The program collaborated with several local organizations to build an on-site garden to teach residents how to grow their own healthy foods.

University District Greenways and Neighborhood safety:

Supported Seattle Neighborhood Greenways movement in a variety of capacities including: fundraising & social media, transferring leadership & institutional knowledge of University Greenways to new co-leaders. Supported U-District Square's Parklet project with a grant. This is one of Seattle's first parklets, funded before the city's funding program was in place. Worked with Seattle's Department of Transportation to on various safety improvement for pedestrians and cyclists. Also partnered with city leaders to address community safety in central Capitol Hill.

transportation corridors for people all ages and abilities. The vision is a Kirkland where people from 8 to 88 can get around on a complete network of safe streets, using all forms of transportation. This involves research on best practices, planning, executing and follow-up media for public events - online social media outreach - preparing for and meetings with city council, city staff and boards and commissions from Sound Transit, City of Bellevue, City of Kirkland, City of Redmond, City of Kenmore, as well as holding public events to build the network of volunteers users of Greenways.

Other Urban Sparks Program Expenses:

Urban Sparks continued its mission of facilitating and leading community projects as well as acting as a resource for those wanting to accomplish public projects and charitable work. We coach many projects without ever doing monetary business, helping them find resources to complete their projects: community and government contacts, like organizations, vendors, etc. We keep a website and database of resources and readily share them. We also share templates for a variety of documents needed by community groups to manage and fund projects, and we make key networking introductions to bolster neighborhood projects. We act as a free resource to approximately three groups for every one with which we have a fiscal sponsor relationship.

Service House:

Urban Sparks is planning a Philanthropic Education Center to provide full-time volunteers like AmeriCorps members with a welcoming and enriching first year so that they choose to continue to play important roles in philanthropic society.

The center will include affordable mini-studio apartments for AmeriCorps members, offices for nonprofits, and spaces for education. We performed a feasibility study for the City of Seattle for building mini-studios optimized for 1-2 years stays in urban Seattle by workers earning very low pay, including full-time volunteers.

To build awareness on a small budget we are partnering with EarthCorps and the Seattle AmeriCorps Collaborative to build an education program and help EarthCorps develop affordable housing for their AmeriCorps members.

Undriving Project:

The Undriving Education Project continues to build community, corporate and government awareness of alternatives to driving carbon-producing single-occupancy cars, issuing more than 20,000 licenses since 2007. Licenses include licensee-chosen "un-dorsements" for walking, biking, telecommuting, skipping the trip, carpooling etc. Undrivers share alternatives and success stories through the webpage and email list as well as displaying their license on their commuter bags. Local governments, transit agencies and trip reduction programs are using Undriving to help educate increasing large populations of commuters, because surveys show that Undrivers honor their commitments to drive less.
