Part X FIN48 Footnote	United Way is exempt from income taxes under provisions of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. As such, United Way is taxed only on its unrelated business income. Management has determined United Way did not receive any significant unrelated business income for the years ended March 31, 2015 and 2014. When tax returns are filed, it is highly certain that some positions taken would be sustained upon examination by the taxing authorities, while others are subject to uncertainty about the merits of the position taken or the amount of the position that would ultimately be sustained. The benefit of a tax position is recognized in the financial statements in the period during which, based upon all available evidence, management believes it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including the resolution of appeals or litigation processes, if any. United Way had no unrecognized tax benefits as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015 and 2014. With few exceptions, the United Way is no longer subject to examinations by federal or state authorities for years ending before March 31, 2012.

	Form 990, Part III, Line 4d Other Program Services Description	OTHER PROGRAM SERVICES 4 Other Program Services Other United Way of Johnson & Washington Counties programming includes community building, assessment and accountability initiatives. United Way fulfills its mission by 1) researching and assessing community conditions and leading multi-sector goal setting, 2) developing strategies and recruiting resources to drive change, meet needs and build assets in the community, and 3) delivering results by monitoring progress and change in community conditions. UWJWC conducts a community assessment every five years, and convenes a cross-sector visioning and goal setting process. United Way Volunteer Center. The United Way Volunteer Centers core mission is to inspire, mobilize, and equip individuals and groups to take positive action to address pressing challenges, support nonprofits, prepare and respond to disasters and strengthen the quality of life in Johnson and Washington counties. The Volunteer Center is the resource devoted to increasing volunteerism, engagement and service to build a community of volunteers. We encourage adults to serve, youth to volunteer and build character, families to bond, young professionals to lead, mature adults to share their wisdom and businesses to support our community. Through organized volunteer projects, as well as by connecting individuals to nonprofit organizations, the United Way Volunteer Center helps people take action. Healthy Kids Initiative. Healthy Kids Community Care was developed to reduce barriers to learning by improving access to health care. Services in the clinic include well-child physical examinations, immunizations, treatment of illness, x-rays, laboratory tests, prescriptions for medications, health education, management of chronic medical conditions, and referrals to mental health providers, dental care and medical specialists (with free or reduced rates negotiated by clinic staff). Additionally, clinic staff provide assistance for families applying for Title XIX (Medicaid) or the HAWK-1 children's health insurance program. Get Moving for Healthy Kids 5K Walk & Run is an annual community fitness activity for kids and adults to support the Healthy Kids School-Based Health Clinics. Money Smart Johnson County Initiative. Financial education and literacy aims to increase the ability to make informed judgments and to make effective decisions regarding the use and management of money. "Financial illiteracy" can compound problems. Without the basic knowledge of money concepts and an understanding of financial options, people are likely to pay more than they have to for financial services, fall into debt, damage their credit records, or even declare bankruptcy. The unbanked or underbanked rely on high-cost alternatives of check cashing services and pawn shops. Poor financial choices harm both individuals and our community. In partnership with MidWestOne Bank, the United Way of Johnson & Washington Counties proposes to target and provide the first five Money Smart program classes to provide the foundation for financial literacy to low-to-moderate income individuals and families in the community. The basic foundation classes are basic banking terms, basic checking, savings money management and financial goal-setting. The classes are provided in a 5-week time period. MidWestOne will provide the class instructors and materials for participants. Classes will be available in two locations, North Liberty (Spring) and downtown Iowa City (Fall). Each eligible household (200% or below federal poverty guidelines) who completes all 5 classes of the Money Smart basic program will be eligible to receive a $500 incentive to open a checking or savings account at the financial institution of their choice and enter the financial mainstream. If the household already has an account, it will be deposited into their savings. Pre and post evaluations will be used to collect data and outcomes. Johnson County Out-of-School Time Initiative. A coalition of partners in Johnson County has created a county-wide vision for out-of-school time. Coordinated by the United Way of Johnson & Washington Counties, the Johnson County Out-Of-School time (OST) Initiative includes before, after school and weekend programs, summer learning opportunities, service learning, mentoring and internships. The focus of the Initiative is on formal and structured opportunities for school-aged youth that can complement the regular school day and the providers include schools, community and faith-based groups, youth-serving organizations, cultural institutions, and city/state agencies. A growing body of research links sustained participation in quality out-of-school time programs to positive development and academic success.
