Return Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 1a If organization elected under SFAS 116 to not report are, historical treasures, o	In accordance with elections made under Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 116 (SFAS 116), the Collection does not include either the cost or the value of its collections on its statement of financial position, nor does it recognize gifts of collection items as revenues in its statement of activities. Collection items are considered works of art, historical treasures, and similar assets held for public exhibition, education, or research in furtherance of public service rather than financial gain.
Part III, Line 4 Description of organization's collections and how it furthers its purpose	The Frick Collection was established by Pittsburgh industrialist Henry Clay Frick, who, upon his death in 1919, bequeathed his New York residence (since designated a National Historic Landmark) and remarkable collection of Western European paintings, sculpture and decorative arts for the enjoyment of the public and for the advancement of the study of fine arts and kindred subjects. The Frick Art Reference Library of the Collection was established in 1920 by Frick's daughter, Helen Clay Frick. The library's book and photograph research collections relate chiefly to paintings, drawings, sculpture, prints, and illuminated manuscripts from the 4th to the mid-20th centuries by European and American artists, and its archival materials and special collections augment the research collections with documents pertaining to the history of collecting art and of Frick's collecting in particular. The Collection's mission is to preserve and display for the public Frick's art collection in a domestic setting and to augment the Collection's art holdings, to provide access, understanding and enjoyment of the art collection to the public through special exhibitions, publications, education and research, and public programs, to offer the visiting public an engaging view of life in the Gilded Age, and to serve as a center for research and to stimulate scholarship in the history of art and the history of collecting works of art in the Western tradition from the 4th to the mid-20th centuries.
Part V, Line 4 Intended uses of the endowment fund	The aggregate endowment funds of The Frick Collection are the foundation of the institution. The endowments ensure the Frick's continued vitality by providing a consistent flow of funds that support all programmatic, facility and related administrative costs of the organization.
Part X FIN48 Footnote	The Collection recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Management has determined that the Collection has no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement disclosure. The Collection is no longer subject to audits by the applicable taxing jurisdictions for periods prior to 2012.
