Form and Line Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 7	A cost accounting system was used to calculate the amounts reported in the table and a cost to charge ratio was utilized The cost accounting system addresses all patient segments (Inpatient, Outpatient, Emergency Room, Private Insurance, Medicaid, Medicare, Uninsured and Self Pay)

Form and Line Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 4	Net patient service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts from third-party payors, patients, and others for services rendered. RCMC has agreements with third-party payors that provide for payments at amounts different from established rates. Payment arrangements include prospectively determined rates per discharge, reimbursed costs, per diem payments, and discounted charges, including estimated retroactive settlements under payment agreements with third-party payors. RCMC recognizes patient service revenue associated with services provided to patients who have third-party payor coverage on the basis of contractual rates for the services rendered. Provisions for adjustments to net patient service revenue are accrued on an estimated basis in the period the related services are rendered and adjusted in future periods as final settlements are determined. For uninsured patients that do not qualify for charity care, RCMC recognizes revenue based on its discounted rates. On the basis of historical experience, a significant portion of RCMC's uninsured patients will be unable or unwilling to pay for the services provided. Thus, RCMC records a significant provision for uncollectible accounts related to uninsured patients in the period the services are provided. Patient accounts receivable are based on gross charges and stated at net realizable value. Accounts receivable are reduced by an allowance for contractual adjustments, based on expected payment rates from payors under current reimbursement methodologies, and also by an allowance for doubtful accounts. In evaluating the collectability of accounts receivable, RCMC analyzes its past history and identifies trends for each of its major payor sources of revenue to estimate appropriate allowance for doubtful accounts and provision for uncollectible accounts based upon management's assessment of historical and expected net collections considering business and economic conditions, trends in health care coverage, and other collection indicators. Management regularly reviews data about these major payor sources of revenue in evaluating the sufficiency of the allowance for contractual adjustments and allowance for doubtful accounts. For receivables associated with services provided to patients who have third-party coverage, RCMC analyzes contractually due amounts and provides an allowance for doubtful accounts and a provision for uncollectible accounts (for example, for expected uncollectible deductibles and copayments on accounts for which the third-party payor has not yet paid, or for payors who are known to be having financial difficulties that make the realization of amounts due unlikely). For receivables associated with self-pay patients (which includes both patients without insurance and patients with deductible and copayment balances due for which third-party coverage exists for part of the bill), RCMC records a significant provision for uncollectible accounts in the period of service on the basis of its past experience, which indicates that many patients are unable or unwilling to pay the portion of their bill for which they are financially responsible. The difference between the discounted rates and the amounts actually collected after all reasonable collection efforts have been exhausted is charged off against the allowance for doubtful accounts in the period they are determined uncollectible. RCMC's allowance for doubtful accounts increased from 23.9% of gross accounts receivable less contractual allowances at June 30, 2014 to 23.1% of gross accounts receivable less contractual allowances at June 30, 2015. The increase in the allowance as a percentage of gross accounts receivable less contractual allowances was due to higher self-pay volumes and lower accounts receivable from third-party payors.

Form and Line Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 8	All of the shortfall reported in line 7 should be treated as community benefit because if we did not provide the service, the burden of the costs would fall on the government. Costs of treating Medicare patients are calculated using the IRS calculated percentage.

Form and Line Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 9b	It is our policy not to pursue collection practices against patients known to qualify for Charity Care or other financial assistance. In certain cases it may not be easily determined whether or not a patient qualifies for Charity Care or financial assistance. However, if after collection practices have begun, it later becomes known the patient qualifies, the collection efforts cease.

Form and Line Reference	Explanation
Part VI, Line 2	Community need is assessed through review of community and hospital data, periodic assessments with physician and clinicians, and reporting of information from hospital committees. Further input from the community arises from the community based board of directors, various forms of patient input, and hospital involvement with government, health industry, and community agencies. The hospital also actively participates in formal needs assessments conducted by government and community agencies.
