Line 28) In November, we co-hosted with the County Extension office Farm City Ag Education Day. This educational event is used to teach students the importance of agriculture and the history of our county. There are multiple commodity stations set up around the property in order to allow students to have hands on activities. We also provide educational information such as proper water run off, the need for sunscreen, and watch a farrier shoe a horse.

Line 29) In conjunction with the county extension office, we hosted a teacher workshop. This year's focus was 'Gardening for Grades.' Teachers learned about active ways to get kids involved in agriculture including school gardens. By providing these workshops we promote the betterment of agriculture.

Line 30) We participated in Ag Literacy. This is a national event where members read an age appropriate book to school aged children. This ag related book helps children understand the importance of agriculture and why farming is important.
