This year, 2015 has been one full of milestones for El Pjaro Community Development Corp and our clients. The financial support from long time funders has afforded us the opportunity to seek out additional funding opportunities (see list attached) and was essential in the successful Community Economic Development (CED) application of a $788,000 federal grant. The award has also supported the organization with a vital community resource. In May 2015 we completed the purchase for $2M of the property that houses the Commercial Kitchen Incubator. At the time of purchase the building's value was assessed at $2.7M. Due to this acquisition, our financial assets grew from $2,548,061 to 4,366,700 as illustrated on our financial statements (see attached). The building, on Riverside Drive in Watsonville, had sat vacant for seven years. Currently 32 small businesses are operating out of half the building and we will soon be welcoming another small, local business to occupy the rest. This past year we made new connections in the community. In March we cosponsored the Watsonville Film Festival and hosted the opening and closing parties alongside both Commercial Kitchen Incubator (CKI) businesses and our Plaza Vigil Merchants Association. We look forward to continuing this partnership. We have also built a relationship with FoodWhat? (http://www.foodwhat.org) and have hosted tours and workdays with their members. Late in the year we were offered the opportunity to participate in an international food show by the Specialty Food Association. Nine CKI businesses were able to showcase their products in the Winter Fancy Food Show in San Francisco. This was a priceless opportunity to expose our clients to big time food industry movers and shakers as well as provide El Pjaro CDC an opportunity to publicize our CKI. The local community is very excited about the kitchen project and we host public events at the CKI on a regular basis. We love the enthusiasm the community members bring and they have been a great learning tool for our new entrepreneurs to improve their salesmanship and product presentation skills. In December we participated in the City of Watsonville's Holiday Factory Sale. We open the kitchen to the public so they can buy direct from our clients. The sale was a huge hit and most of the participating business sold out by early afternoon. We plan to continue participating and look forward to introducing new businesses and product this year. In total 180 individual businesses and pre-venture entrepreneurs from Santa Cruz County were assisted by El Pjaro CCD staff and consultants. Many clients sought assistance with business planning and we continue to emphasize that developing a business plan is key to the decision making process in any venture. More than 27 business plans were created by clients with our assistance. Clients also sought aid with general operations and business management, marketing and sales, buying or selling a business and start-up assistance. This year more than thirty businesses sought to find a spot in the Commercial Kitchen Incubator (CKI) and start-up assistance was key as 78% were at the pre-venture or start-up stage. Six new food businesses were started and five existing business expanded their sales reach through contracts and additional retail outlets. The table below describes services provided and accomplishments of past fiscal year that ended on June 30, 2015. Amy, please include the numbers that you collected for the SBA PRIME application.
