other instructors donated their services, except in May and July when one main instructor was compensated $1500 per course (Director and Treasurer, Gideon Erkenwick Watsa). For all instructors, lodging was covered at the site, and the two main instructors' flights were also covered.

Program II: Research Assistantship Training

In this program, we worked primarily in the summer months and trained a total of 20 students (one of whom participated in the winter months). Research assistantships run from 4 to 10 weeks and cover four major research areas: wildlife handling, disease ecology, sensory perception and vocal communication. During these programs, a field team of managers conduct research at the site and supervise the training of each student. Our managers and senior researchers do not receive compensation, but stay is covered for two lead researchers at the site.

Program III: Scholarship Program for Field Courses

We offered a total of 10 scholarships to students during the year, 8 of whom were able to make it to the site and attend the field courses.

Students came from Mexico, Brazil, Peru and the United States. The program covers lodging and food at the site, transportation from the closest town to the site, and stay locally for one night before and after the program. Applications for this scholarship are reviewed blind by a grants/scholarships committee headed up by Director Julia Maki. All students submit an essay response to a prompt for each scholarship and are evaluated by a minimum of two reviewers. Fluency in English is a prerequisite since the courses are conducted in English at the site.

To whom it may concern,

I sincerely apologize for the late submission of this tax report. I had mistaken the deadline for the end of the month, and not the 15th day of the 5th month after the end of our fiscal year (September 2015). My extended travel plans and some personal health problems also made an earlier submission not feasible. For this I do apologize once more.

Please do not hesitate to contact me for any further questions.

Sincerely,
