estimated that each high-risk juvenile prevented from adopting a life of crime could save the country 3 million dollars.

ARISE Foundation's mission is to introduce valuable life skills to at-risk troubled youth, enabling them to achieve their highest potential through training and education. This mission is accomplished in two ways: the development of specialized life-skills lessons and careful training of ARISE-certified life-skills instructors.

Since ARISE was established in 1986, its founders have written a complete library of life-skills lessons targeted specifically at troubled youth. Topics include anger management, conflict resolution, and finding and keeping a job, among others. ARISE material is evidence based, easily understood, and interactive. It boosts academic skills as well as social skills.

Because this population required gentle encouragement to express their honest feelings in ARISE groups, staff training was a must. ARISE created a unique delivery system for teaching life skills by training staff in an intensive fourteen-hour program on precisely how to conduct memorable, interactive, ARISE group life-skills lessons. Over 5,500 ARISE Certified Life-Skills Instructors have been trained in the US, Canada, Bermuda and beyond. They have taught in excess of 5,000,000 documented hours of ARISE life-skills lessons to at-risk youth in Florida and Washington, D.C. alone. ARISE lessons are currently used in juvenile correctional facilities, detention centers and individuals in probation in the state of Florida. Many other organizations in the US are utilizing ARISE life-skills lessons and staff training to help youngsters meet the challenges they will encounter. ARISE now has their Life Skills training online. ARISE Foundation's goals are to continue to create lessons and update training,
