990 Schedule F, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Monitoring Use of Grants	Schedule F, Part I, Line 2 Grant agreements are signed with all grantees in Israel and include a provision that requires the recipient to use the funds for the charitable purposes for which they were granted. All selected grantees must submit qualitative and quantitative progress reports at regular intervals to be reimbursed for costs expended on programs (Joint Israel only provides a 15% advance of the total grant and continues to give grants on a reimbursement basis afterwards). Failure to meet reporting milestones usually results in nonpayment or delayed reimbursement. Failure to meet performance milestones or charitable purposes of the project may result in withdrawal of grants. Joint Israel's formal partnership with the government of Israel mandates ongoing review of performance milestones, which routinely include review of original applications. Joint Israel employs internal and external audit functions that allow the organization to monitor the progress of the project and the appropriate and transparent use of funds. Projects are reexamined for efficacy and capacity for implementation.
