What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?
 Proyecto Itzaes is organized for charitable and educational purposes, in Yucatan, Mexico. The mission of Proyecto Itzaes is to provide educational resources for children and families in villages in Yucatán where traditional farming and fishing can no longer support families. We believe that the fundamental tools of literacy should be available to all. Our goal is to build sustainable community service programs that promote family-centered learning and respect Maya cultural heritage. Education will create new opportunities for children to fully realize their gifts in a changing world. Vision We envision a future where children in Yucatec villages have full opportunities to achieve the education necessary for successful participation in a changing economy. We hope to be an organization that builds and spreads a successful mode of sustainable community service based educational programs.

Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. In a clear and concise manner, describe the services provided, the number of persons benefited, and other relevant information for each program title.

28 Education, General/Other. In 2015, Proyecto Itzaes served the people of Ixil, Chicxulub Pueblo, Dzemul, and Too, Yucatan in areas of education and community service. In addition, Proyecto Itzaes continued its expansion of sustainability programs for literacy, agriculture, health awareness, pre-natal health, cultural preservation, and leadership for youth and their families. Approximate total number of people served in these six villages is 30,000. More than 2000 new books were brought into circulation in the villages and education programs provided resources that support the community at large. Proyecto Itzaes hosted volunteers from in fall and winter of 2015 in education projects and in summer volunteers from Stanford University and other volunteers who worked with the program via classes, health fairs, video efforts, english language instruction, leadership classes, reforestation and literacy programs. Proyecto Itzaes programs are open to all members of the community free of charge. In 2015, Proyecto Itzaes expanded its programs to include Rachel PI computer technology, science programs with FOLDSCOPE microscopes, exchanges with classes from the US via skype, agr-ecology, reforestation, science in the villages ecology program, kids and seeds biodiversity programs, archiving of traditional ecological knowledge, diabetes education programs, drama programs, puppet theater productions, biointensive and permaculture family gardens, Maya musical traditions and hands on science classes with visiting educators from Stanford University, University of Arizona, UC Davis, CINVESTAV and UNAM.
