Part X, Other Liabilities, Line 2: The footnote in the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2015 in regards to uncertain tax positions reads: "The Cooperative complies with ASC 740-10 related to uncertain tax positions. ASC 740-10 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. Management is not aware of any tax positions taken by the Cooperative on its tax returns that they consider to be uncertain or that would jeopardize its tax exempt status. Tax returns for the years ended 2012, 2013, and 2014 are still open and subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service."

Part XI, Line 4b, Other Adjustments to Revenue: For purposes of creating a condensed income statement on our audited financial statements, our auditors chose to net $30,523 of unrelated business expense directly against the revenue generated from the same unrelated business activity in the "Non-Operating Margins (Expense)" section of the income statement. Additionally, the Cooperative received $40,000 from a grant issued by the Ohio Bureau of Worker's Compensation to help purchase a wire-puller trailer. Although the reduced the capitalization of our fixed assets as opposed to treating the proceeds as revenue.

990 form instructions required treatment of these proceeds as revenue included on Part VIII, Line 1f of the core form, GAAP accounting

Part XII, Line 4b, Other Adjustments to Expense: For purposes of creating a condensed income statement on our audited financial statements, our auditors chose to net $30,523 of unrelated business expense directly against the revenue generated from the same

unrelated business activity in the "Non-Operating Margins (Expense)" section of the income statement. Additionally, the Cooperative received $40,000 from a grant issued by the Ohio Bureau of Worker's Compensation to help purchase a wire-puller trailer. Although the

reduced the capitalization of our fixed assets as opposed to treating the proceeds as revenue. Therefore, since our revenues were overstated by $40,000 on Part VIII, Statement of Revenue, we had to increase Part IX, Statement of Functional Expenses, Line 24d,

USDA functionalized accounting by $40,000 to offset the increase in revenues in order for Net Margins (revenue less expenses) on Part XI, Line 3 to be properly stated.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information.

College scholarships: High school seniors of our consumer/members fill out a provided application to apply for the scholarship. Applicants are then reviewed by a team that includes management of Midwest Electric and Wright State University staff members. Of the applications received (this past year around forty), only seven applicants will receive a scholarship. Checks are made out directly to the award recipient.

Touchstone Home rebate: Only future home owners of new construction that will be served by Midwest Electric may apply for this rebate. They contact Midwest Electric with their intent and Midwest Electric staff reviews the rebate parameters with the future homeowner. To receive the rebate, the newly built home must pass an energy audit conducted by an independent rating agency. The new home must have energy-star rated windows and appliances. The home must have pre-determined levels of insulation, meet certain heat-loss standards, and pass a minimum threshold on a "blower-door" test. Once these tests have been passed, we issue the rebate to the homeowner.

Energy-efficient home rebate: Only future home owners of new construction that will be served by Midwest Electric may apply for this rebate. They contact Midwest Electric with their intent and Midwest Electric staff reviews the rebate parameters with the future homeowner. To receive the rebate, the newly built home must pass all Ohio building code requirements including those for energy efficiency. The new home must also have an electric water heater and an air-source heat pump or geothermal system.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information.

Energy audit rebate: Midwest Electric members who wish to have a home or commercial energy audit performed will contact the office. Midwest will have an independent energy auditor meet the homeowner (or business owner) and conduct an audit of their home (or business) and provide the homeowner with a report that identifies ways (and expected payback) to address energy losses to help lower their energy bill. Midwest Electric will pay one-half of the audit fee. If the homeowner makes some of the improvements suggested, Midwest

Electric will pay the entire audit fee.

Lighting rebate: In addition to offering a rebate to commercial members who upgrade their inefficient lighting, Midwest Electric will extend the same offer to residential members who operate a business enterprise as a individual (i.e. a small farm). For every watt of lighting load that is reduced, Midwest Electric will rebate the project cost $1 up to the lesser of $5,000 or 50% of the total project cost. Some residents had multiple projects in multiple locations.

Tree seedling program: All Midwest Electric members are invited to submit reimbursement requests for invoices from newly planted trees. Each member is limited to a maximum reimbursement of $15 each calendar year.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information.

In-Home Appliance and Weatherization - rebate program: Cooperative members were invited throughout the calendar year to have certain major appliances upgraded that consume large amounts of electricity. Eligible appliances included water heaters, geothermal systems, and dual fuel heating systems. To receive the rebate, (1) the appliance had to be installed in the calendar year, (2) each water heater had to allow a load-control device to be wired into the appliance's electrical supply, and (3) each geothermal and dual fuel heating system must be accompanied with an electric water heater (with a load control device). The cooperative's power supplier, Buckeye Power, would then cycle through the load control devices whenever their power peak was coincidental with the regional transmission operator's critical peaks. The program is designed to help the homeowner lower their energy consumption with modern appliances and help the cooperative lower its' contribution to critical peak pricing. By reducing some/all of the coincidental peaks, we were able to pass that avoided cost savings back to the ultimate consumer/member with a reduction in the power cost adjustment revenue rider. Each qualified water heater received a $100 rebate and the approved heating systems received a $200 rebate. Since 2013, members with electric heat sources were encouraged to add insulation and conduct air sealing projects. Each qualified insulation/air sealing project was eligible for a $200 rebate. Some consumers were able to qualify for multiple rebates.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section A, Item 7a: The same members who are identified in question six have the opportunity to vote for the nine board member seats that come up for re-election; board members have three-year terms. Voting is handled by an independent third party and is done through the mail and an online website. Unfortunately, one active board member passed away in September 2015; his seat was left vacant until the entire membership had the ability to vote prior to the next annual meeting in June 2016.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section A, Item 7b: The same members who are identified in question six have the opportunity to vote for any proposed changes in the organization's Articles of Incorporation and Code of Regulations. It takes a majority of the votes cast to approve any of the proposed regulation changes. Board members can not change the Articles of Incorporation or the Code of Regulations without a consenting membership vote.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section B, Item 10b: This entity has no local chapters, branches, or affiliates.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section B, Item 11b: Prior to a monthly board meeting, a digital version of Form 990 and the required schedules were made available on the board member's computer tablet. At the board meeting, the return was again reviewed by the board members, the corporate attorney, the general manager, and the manager of finance. All present were asked if they had any questions or disagreements with the proposed filing. No amendments were suggested.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section B, Item 12c: Annually, the board members and officers are required to complete a conflict of interest and disclosure questionnaire. Based upon the results of that questionnaire, any reported conflicts with third parties or internal parties are identified and may affect the board member's status. If a conflict is small, the board member must recuse himself from decisions involved with that entity/person. If the conflict is substantial or prohibitive based upon the Code of Regulations, the board member would be subject to removal as detailed in Article VI of the Code of Regulations.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section B, Item 15: Annually, the board pays for an independent consultant to perform a wage and salary comparison of cooperative wages against those of local, state, and national businesses of like-kind size. The compensation goal of the board is to set pay within a standard deviation of the average wage paid for that position in these similar-sized organizations. The CEO will then use the same wage study and techniques to set the individual wages for management personnel of the cooperative. Each year the board of directors will conduct a performance review of the general manager to review past performance and set short-term and long-term goals. The board will then have an executive session to discuss and arrive at the general manager's salary for the upcoming year.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section B, Item 16b: Not applicable - this entity did not invest in any joint venture or any other similar arrangement with a taxable entity during the calendar year.

990 Core, Page 6, Part VI, Section C, Item 19: The cooperative gives the Articles of Incorporation and the Code of Regulations to all new members (either by mail or e-mail); any current member may also request a copy of these documents. The conflict of interest policy will be given to members upon request. The cooperative's financial statements are made available upon request but are also published annually in the member's monthly publication of the Country Living magazine. The audited statements are typically displayed in the magazine in the month preceding the annual meeting.

990 Core, Page 7, Part VII, Section A, Item 1a, Column E: Prior to the 990 completion, each board member, officer, and key employee was given an information-gathering questionnaire to complete. The questionnaire explained reportable conditions and gave the IRS' definition on key terms. Upon receipt of all ten questionnaires, they were reviewed to identify any reportable situation. Additionally, if any reportable situation was known or observed by another governing member, they were expressed with the necessity to come forward with that information.

990 Core, Page 8, Part VIII, Line 1e, Government Grant: The cooperative received a $40,000 safety intervention grant from the Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation to help purchase a wire-puller drum trailer.

990 Core, Page 10, Part IX, Line 4: In adhering to IRS 990 instructions, patronage capital retired to active and former members for the calendar year is reported on this line. Conceptually, patronage capital represents a member's ownership in a cooperative and any retirement of patronage capital is, in fact, a return of that investment and not a traditional expense as viewed in standard accounting rules. By including this amount on the statement of functional expenses, we have overstated our current year's expense by $1,749,187 and we had to create a balancing adjustment on Line 24d to properly adjust our expenses back to GAAP and USDA accounting methodology.

990 Core, Page 10, Part IX, Line 24d: In adhering to the IRS 990 instructions for expense disclosures on Part IX, Statement of Functional Expenses, items that are not treated as current year expenses on our audited statements have been overstated on this tax return. For instance, large portions of labor, labor overhead, and subcontracted labor are capitalized in the cooperative's fixed assets in accordance with USDA accounting procedures. These assets have a multi-year life and are either depreciated or amortized over their useful life. Therefore, by reporting our gross payrolls in lines 5, 7, 8, 9, and 10, we need to recognize an offsetting amount in line 24d to properly identify these labor costs that have been capitalized as an element of fixed assets. In addition, as stated above in Line 4, the retirement of patronage capital is not viewed as a traditional expense but rather as a return of invested capital. Therefore, the entire amount on line 4 ($1,749,187) is not considered an expense for GAAP or USDA standards and by including this amount on Line 4, we need to create an offset amount on line 24d to successfully adjust our Total Functional Expenses back to the audited balance of $27,509,503.
