990 EZ Part III What is organization's primary exempt purpose?

- Quatrefoil Library is an all-volunteer-supported and -managed lending library and archive of materials reflecting GLBT experience in our area and across the nation. We began, literally, in the closet: in the apartment closet of a Twin Cities gay couple, David Irwin and Dick Hewetson. In 1983, after a decade of collecting gay publications, they incorporated the collection as a non-profit organization, Quatrefoil Library. In February, 1986, the library was opened to the public. Since then we have grown into a respected repository for collecting, documenting and sharing the history of the GLBT community. Over 2,000 people visited us last year and we circulated almost 3,500 items. The library takes its name from author James Barr's novel, "Quatrefoil," a work now recognized as one of the first positive portrayals of homosexuality in mainstream media and literature.

The mission of Quatrefoil Library is, "to foster GLBT community, culture and camaraderie through literature and media in a welcoming place. By collecting and lending queer creative output we nurture and cultivate the value of the whole community. We continually strive to integrate our historical presence into new areas as communication and technologies evolve."

The library's long-term goal centers on the collection, display and preservation of its collection and holdings in an environment that is welcoming, safe and accessible. Key stakeholders include its members, scholars, student researchers and the general public who seek out Quatrefoil's literature and non-fiction works, including a rare books collection, film, video, DVDs and an unusual and hard-to-find repository of magazines and journals, both popular and scholarly. We also host readings, writing classes, exhibits and lectures as well - events that are open to the entire community.
