The Beaumont Foundation of America awards grants to bring about civic betterment and social improvements by providing assistance to the poor, underserved, and underprivileged. We have five major program areas - Children & Youth, Education, Healthcare, Social Services and Children of Fallen Heroes.

Form 990, Part III - Additional InformationLINE 4A - FIRST ACHIEVEMENT

Social Services grants support basic needs, such as food, clothing, shelter, and other aid for indigent, low income, and other underserved populations. The primary area is food to the poor through organized food bank programs. Grants to enhance technology, economies of scale and new partnerships have enabled food banks to meet increased demand for food to those most in need. Special attention has been given to children through Kids Cafe and Backpack programs and to the rural poor through Rural Pantry programs. The remaining grants in this area are fund awards for emergency care for at risk populations served by churches.

LINE 4B - SECOND ACHIEVEMENT

Children and Youth programs consists primarily of providing clothing for children in foster care programs. Children in foster care seldom have new school clothes, as budgets are so sparse that new school clothes become a luxury. But for children already facing nearly insurmountable problems of identity and worth, peer pressure, and ridicule based on old or inappropriate clothing can be devastating. work in close coordination with the major foster care providers to help overcome this problem.

LINE 4C - THIRD ACHIEVEMENT

Education programs include grants to support exceptional K-12 teachers, grants to provide scholarships to first generation underserved university students, and grants and endowments for graduate programs, particularly in law. Special programs are also organized around increasing opportunities for underserved students. The primary focus on K-12 is in recognizing and supporting outstanding teachers through $10,000 per teacher grants in Southeast Texas, East Texas and Lubbock County, Texas. Beaumont Foundation college scholarships follow well established formats at multiple universities to provide student scholarships and to endow leadership, administrative, and faculty positions. The Foundation supports a number of universities, with special emphasis on Lamar University here in Beaumont. One program is, unlike those previously described, unconventional. This program is the legislative internship program, which takes students from multiple universities and provides them a semester at the Texas Legislature. The Beaumont Foundation is closely monitoring this program.

LINE 4D - OTHER PROGRAM SERVICES

The final two program areas for the Foundation are Healthcare Programs and the Fallen Heroes Program. Healthcare Programs fall into three main categories of improved access to health care for the underserved. One is an outreach program to Native Americans in western states. This endeavor, conducted as part of the Huntsman Cancer Outreach Program, seeks to enlist tribal elders in encouraging screening and treatment. Outreach is conducted by healthcare workers who are Native American or familiar with customs of potential clients. The second is a community clinic which helps create treating physician homes for underserved families and individuals. Finally, the Beaumont Foundation made a grant to build a facility to house families of out of town patients. A medical treatment tertiary care hospital often serves patients who are not near their homes. Unless the families have a place to stay, proper support cannot be provided to sick family members. Finally, our Children of Fallen Heroes Program is a legacy of our original mission to provide technology grants. This program provides laptop computers to dependent children and spouses of military personnel who gave their lives in Iraq or Afghanistan.
