The Nelson Museum of the West maintains a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public

The Museum sends an average of four (4) letters of solicitation per work day to Cheyenne, Wyoming residents and businesses. The Museum also sends two/three letters per day to current or retired members of the United States Military solicitating in-kind donations of military uniforms and accessories.

The Board of Directors of this museum represents the interest of the public. Board members include attorneys, a ranches, retired military and businessmen.

The Museum is open each year from May through October for the public and opens at other times during the year for school groups or special interest groups. The Museum has provided its facilities for weddings, reunions, receptions, U.S Cavalry Association members, Boys and Girls' Club members, YMCA groups and various tours.

The Museum is not a dues paying organization. The Museum has built an extensive military collection which is viewed by various military groups, such as the U.S. Cavalry Association, Wyoming National Guard, retired and current military personnel.
