Briefly describe the organization's mission

Management Sciences for Health (MSH) saves lives and improves health by ensuring equitable access to health care for people most in need. MSH builds strong health systems that deliver everything it takes: people, money, medicine, information and facilities to prevent disease, treat illness, and empower people to lead healthier lives. For more than 45 years in over 150 countries, MSH has partnered with governments and communities to build strong, locally-led health systems that improve reproductive, maternal and child health, fight infectious diseases, and control chronic conditions such as cancer, diabetes and heart and lung disease. In 2015, MSH reached 117 million people around the world through our work.

(Code) (Expenses $ 88,645,508 including grants of $ 6,988,794) (Revenue $ 0)

Access to Medicines Strong health systems ensure that all communities and individuals have the right medicine at the right dose at the right time. Access to quality medicines can improve and save lives. Equally important is the knowledge of how to properly use these medicines. MSH's Access to Medicines program brings expertise and proven solutions to public officials, community leaders, and individuals. We train pharmacists in some of the most volatile countries in the world to enable them to rely on a steady supply of safe, quality medicines and train them how to dispense them properly. We work to expand the understanding of what is required to design and implement sustainable medicines benefit packages as a component of universal health coverage through public and private health insurance in low-income countries. MSH's program also shares global pharmaceutical data analytics, ensures quality of medicines, develops pharmaceutical software, and innovates and applies proven health technologies. Through this work thousands of lives have been-and will be-saved.

(Code) (Expenses $ 35,480,574 including grants of $ 3,581,293) (Revenue $ 0)

Infectious Disease Strong health systems are built to address infectious disease and prevent outbreaks from becoming epidemics. MSH's infectious disease programs support key interventions to prevent, diagnose and treat HIV, TB, and malaria. We support collaborative approaches, including developing accreditation standards such as treatment guidelines and building capacity by training district officials, health workers and communities. We also help identify and resolve bottlenecks in flows of medicine and material resources, provide oversight of global fund projects, and build leadership capacity at national-level institutions to build consensus and collaboration to eliminate these killer diseases. We also work to strengthen the supply chain of medicines for infectious diseases. Reducing high maternal and child mortality due to infectious diseases in countries such as Liberia, Ethiopia, Tanzania and Uganda is achieved through a combination of health service and infrastructure interventions. In Liberia, MSH is working with the Ministry of Health to help restore and improve the health system following the Ebola crisis. MSH is working hard to stop the next global pandemic.

(Code) (Expenses $ 87,112,301 including grants of $ 12,168,745) (Revenue $ 0)

Integrated Health Systems Delivery MSH is considered a leader in Health Systems Strengthening (HSS). MSH applies a comprehensive systems approach that ensures that underserved women, children and families are getting the full spectrum of care they need. We provide access to integrated health interventions and medicines across the continuum of care and improve the health of women and children through primary care services integrated with family planning, HIV, TB, and malaria health services, along with care for chronic diseases such as cancer and diabetes. We employ operations analysis and solution design to all aspects of a nation's health system through building capacity at all levels, working alongside key stakeholders to develop strategies, and in some cases deliver services during periods where there are gaps in the system.
