FORM 990, Part III, Line 4B	Services for People Living with HIV/AIDS Casita Esperanza inaugurated in 1997 with a grant from The United States Department of Housing and Urban Development's ("HUD") Housing Opportunities for People with AIDS ("HOPWA") program, Casita Esperanza (the "Little House of Hope") is a transitional housing program for chronically homeless persons with HIV/AIDS who are actively abusing alcohol or other drugs. The program provides both emergency and transitional housing for up to 39 single adult men and women. Services include case management, recovery readiness counseling, placement in harm reduction and substance abuse treatment programs, HIV education, survival skills and independent living skills training, health care education and coordination, recreational activities, hot meals, nutritional counseling, support groups and assistance obtaining primary care, entitlements, ongoing community-based supportive services and placement in permanent housing. Esperanza's primary goals are to stabilize residents' substance abuse and health status and train clients to live independently, lowering the risk of repeated instances of homelessness once housed independently. Casita Esperanza, one of NYC's few transitional programs for homeless people living with both HIV and substance abuse, is currently a primary referral site for non-profits in Puerto Rico assisting clients who wish to migrate to NYC seeking improved entitlements, drug treatment, housing and primary care. Effective January 1, 2014, the Organization began leasing this space to an affiliate, Promesa, Inc., who has taken over this program. HIV Case Management and HIV Prevention Education & Outreach HIV Case Management (Health Home) This program offers Medicaid-reimbursable, intensive case management services for persons living with HIV/AIDS and their partners and families. Services include an in-depth assessment of each client's needs and assistance in connecting with a range of quality services in the community, including primary medical care, emergency care, entitlements such as Social Security, food stamps, rental enhanced public assistance or HIV (HASA/AIDS Services Administration), a variety of transitional and permanent housing options, mental health services, substance abuse counseling and treatment services, permanency planning, other family support services, nutritional services, social services, intensive HIV treatment educational and both hospital and home visits. HIV Prevention Education & Outreach (MSA) The MSA program is intended to provide HIV outreach and prevention education services as well as outreach and education to the community at large, targeting parents, local youth, injection drug users, other alcohol and other drug users, commercial sex workers, the elderly and other high risk persons. Participants are provided with a series of eight basic HIV education workshops, which include HIV risk reduction, the importance of early medical intervention, and information regarding how to live longer and healthier with HIV/AIDS. An advanced risk reduction workshop series provides prevention skills building for persons needing assistance negotiating condom use with sexual partners and learning harm reduction and relapse prevention techniques. Participants receive assistance in obtaining confidential HIV counseling and testing and a variety of placements in harm reduction, recovery readiness and substance abuse treatment programs upon request. The MSA program also provides intensive case management services to HIV positive individuals who do not have current Medicaid entitlements or who are not Medicaid eligible, including recent immigrants and parolees. HIV Related Supportive Services Women's Supportive Services (WSS) The WSS program provides a variety of support services for HIV positive women and their families, including crisis intervention, hospital visits, various targeted support groups, recreational activities (including weekly arts and crafts groups, beauty parlor day, recreational trips, movies and special events), individual supportive crisis intervention counseling and home/hospital visits and assistance with emergencies including homemaker services. Women's sexual partners are also provided services. On a regular basis, services are also provided on-site by other community-based HIV service organizations, such as workshops on nutrition, permanency planning and partner notification. A light breakfast and hot lunch are served daily. Additionally, a childcare center is available to provide drop-off childcare for parents who are receiving services. All HIV positive women and their partners/families receiving the Agency HIV case management services are eligible. Referrals from other agencies which do not provide these services are also accepted. Effective July 1, 2014, the funding for this program has been discontinued.
