Part III, Line 1a	Freedom Center owns collections of works of art, historical treasures, and similar assets that it has acquired over the years. Such collections are protected, cared for and held in Freedom Center's museum for public exhibition, education, and research. Such collections have not been capitalized and contributions of such items are not recognized as support/revenue in Freedom Center's financial statements. Freedom Center's collections consist of historical manuscripts, art objects, microfilm, photographs and costs of digitalization. They are subject to a policy that requires proceeds from the disposition of collection items to be used to acquire and to care for other collection items. During 2015, Freedom Center did not dispose of any of its collections.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part V, Line 4	The fair value of the original gifts are permanently restricted funds. The income from these funds can be appropriated based on the Freedom Center policy for distribution, subject to approval by the Board of Directors, for use in operations of the organization.
Part X, Line 2	For Federal tax purposes, Freedom Center is an exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") has issued guidance which clarifies generally accepted accounting principles for recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure relating to uncertain tax positions. This guidance clarifies the accounting and recognition for income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in Freedom Center's income tax returns. Freedom Center's income tax filings are subject to audit by various taxing authorities. Freedom Center's policy with regards to interest and penalties is to recognize interest through interest expense and penalties through other expense. In evaluating Freedom Center's tax provision and tax exempt status, interpretations and tax planning strategies were considered. Freedom Center believes their estimates are appropriate based on the current facts and circumstances. Revenues derived from certain catering services provided by the Freedom Center, certain museum shop sales and advertising income that are not substantially related to furthering the Freedom Center's mission are considered unrelated business income. Taxes on unrelated business income are paid in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code. No accrual has been provided because the amount of tax due is immaterial.
