Facts And Circumstances Test

International Aid receives both cash and noncash contributions from a broad range of donors including individuals, churches, foundations, companies, and estates. Over our 35+ years of existence we have accumulated a database of over 50,000 donors who have contributed at least once to the organization. We regularly solicit via direct mail, email phone, and directly contact from 10,000 to 15,000 different donors each month. In fiscal year 2016, we received 278 noncash contributions from 83 different donors totaling approximately $63 million. In FY16 we shipped this donated product and equipment to 147 different partner organizations working in 66 different countries. During our fiscal years 2010 to 2012 one donor TEVA Pharmaceuticals, gave approx. $200M of noncash contributions, out of an approx. $500M total noncash contributions. This donor donated pharmaceutical medications which often have an extremely high fair market value (the value which is used to record the donation). This fact has caused our percentage of public support to decline for each year they began donating to us beginning in 2009. TEVA has not contributed monetarily, they don't have any representation on our board of directors and we don't engage in any business relationship with them. In July 2013 we received notification that they would no longer be able to donate to us and therefore would expect our public support percentage to increase in the coming years. In fiscal year 2016, we received 3,818 cash contributions from 1,654 different donors totaling approximately $1.3 million. We had one donor give 15% of the total monetary contributions received, but all other donors were 4% or less. Of the 3,818 donations made in FY16, 3,446 were made by 1,495 different families or individuals (both 90% of total). We received 150 donations by 64 different churches, 107 donations by 42 different companies, and 66 donations by 29 different foundations. International Aid's board of directors represents a good cross section of individuals none of which have any conflicts of interest that would dissuade them from being impartial representatives for the organization. Here is a brief listing of the board members and their respective occupations in the community: Board Chair Luke Nieuwenhuis is Vice President of Global Strategic Planning for Amway. Board Vice-Chair Roger Spoelman is CEO of Mercy Health Partners (Trinity Health). Board Secretary/Treasurer Mike Houskamp is a small business owner and, presently, he is an associate broker with Coldwell Banker Woodland Schmidt in Residential and Commercial Real Estate. Board director Dr. Tom Carter practices cardiothoracic surgery. Board director, Matt Stowell is Director of Development for Cure International. Lastly, board director and President/CEO of International Aid is Brian Anderson.
