taught known, loved and nurtured collectively" by members of the school community and the inherent value that the environment brings to contribute to the success of each student. Staff members are attracted to join the community for the opportunity to minister to students by investing in their lives.

This environment creates an irresistible community attractive to parents who seek ways to accelerate their child's preparation for college or career and to students who crave personal connections and meaning in their Wi-Fi and data-streamed world. Accountability for personal behavior exists within an Honor Code. Faith development occurs within a framework of faculty as Christian role models, designated middle and high school youth pastors on staff, academic study and application of scripture, weekly chapel services to gather as a Christian community and faith-in-action experiences by involvement in community service and mission trips.

The King's Ridge approach of a comprehensive education extends beyond the content covered in a classroom. This approach, called the JOURNEY for Life Impact, involves not only the knowledge gained through academic studies to prepare for college, but allows a student to become known through:

- identifying their unique God-given purpose and call in whatever industry they serve

- understanding their wiring of how and where to serve

- developing abilities to relate to others

- expanding impact through effective development of functional

life skills

This inclusive access to learning is designed to prepare students to become self-directed learners, self-aware leaders, and self-confident servants.

A strategically-designed international student program is essential to develop a broad community of learners. By diversifying cultural backgrounds throughout the student body, King's Ridge students begin to cultivate an understanding of global agility skills through relational learning. Rather than enrolling international students to drive revenue and risk creating large numbers of students from any particular country, King's Ridge aims long-term to enroll students from 9 areas of the globe, carefully seeking and evaluating students who can bring in different cultural perspectives. This will prepare King's Ridge alumni to be noted for their proficiency in navigating in and out of environments in college and their careers beyond.

Through this comprehensive experience, students are prepared to serve at a higher level and do it with distinction. The benchmark for excellence is elevated and has been demonstrated by KRCS students and alumni in multiple ways:

- Ten years of graduating classes with 100% college acceptance rate.

- Class of 2016 (47 students) received $4.6 million in scholarship offers (not including Georgia HOPE or Zell Miller).

SERVICE AND MISSIONS

All students participate in service and missions starting in the early grades continuing through their high school years. Younger students may get involved by learning about the project and its purpose, committing to pray for an older group of students directly involved in a mission trip, or being part of the support group by providing resources to accomplish their task. By the time students reach their high school years this service expands within a mission trip framework where students put their faith in action and become the hands and feet of Christ by allowing Him to work through them. Serving others through missions allows students to understand the holistic approach of Christ in this world. KRCS graduates are required to document 60 hours of community service as part of their graduation requirements. Many students far exceed that benchmark having discovered the joy from giving back to others.

CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

Families are attracted to the school initially for their children but can find areas in which to become a part of the community and develop networks of support through involvement in parent organizations (Parent Club, Athletic Association, Fine Arts Association) and multiple options for bible study and prayer groups.

As a multi-denominational Christian community there are opportunities to challenge others to learn the value of a relationship of walking with Christ and strengthening faith by serving others. Partnering with parents to surround our students with love, respect, acceptance and accountability serves to create individuals who understand the importance of allowing Christ to lead them and results in conducting their lives with character and confidence.

built as a result of foundational level rec style teams, starting in first grade. King's Ridge strives to train athletes to compete at the highest level so at the end of the contest the opponent knows they have given their opponent a great game. During the 2015-2016 school year King's Ridge teams moved on to tournament level play in varsity basketball, tennis, soccer, swimming, track and field and baseball. Student athletes may participate in any number of sports (football, volleyball, cross country, softball, swimming, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, track & field, equestrian, lacrosse and soccer) over a 3-season schedule. When not actively competing they commit to off-season conditioning and training through a custom-designed strength, conditioning and agility program to be fully prepared for future success. This dedication to preparation has resulted in an ever increasing number of King's Ridge student athletes being pursued by college level programs. During the 2015-2016 school year King's Ridge alumni accomplished noteworthy success:
