Return Reference	Explanation
FIN 48 (ASC 740) FOOTNOTE	Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 Under current accounting guidance related to uncertain tax positions, management is required to determine whether a tax position of the University is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the applicable taxing authority, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position The tax benefit to be recognized is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement Derecognition of a tax benefit previously recognized could result in the University recording a tax liability that would reduce net assets The University has reviewed all significant tax positions for material tax jurisdictions including US federal, and California and Oregon state tax jurisdictions for which the statute of limitations remained open, which is generally three years for federal and four years for state The open tax years also include tax years to the extent of net operating loss carry forwards, which add the tax years June 30, 2001 through June 30, 2011 for federal tax purposes and the years ended June 30, 2004 through June 30, 2010, for state tax purposes The University determined there were no material unrecognized tax benefits in the open tax years However, the statute can be extended if there was a failure to file a necessary tax return In addition, there have been no material changes in unrecognized benefits since July 1, 2015, nor are any anticipated in the 12 months following June 30, 2016 However, management's conclusions regarding this policy may be subject to review and adjustment at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, ongoing analyses of and changes to tax laws, regulations and interpretations thereof There have been no related tax penalties or interest, which would be classified as operating or interest expense in the accompanying consolidated statement of activities and changes in net assets

Questions Regarding Compensation	Schedule J, Part I, Line 1a First-Class Travel First-class travel is allowed only for employees that have a special need or are traveling with a potential donor of the University. This benefit is nontaxable to the employee receiving the benefit. No such benefit was paid in the tax year ending June 30, 2016. Tax Indemnification and Gross-Up Payments The President received a tax gross-up payment for an auto lease, which is included in compensation reported on Schedule J, Part II, Column (b)(i). Discretionary Spending Account When external funds are generated (usually from a speaking engagement) by a Dean or Faculty member, a discretionary fund is created for the individual to help supplement their continuing education requirements or research projects. This benefit is nontaxable to the employee receiving the benefit. No such benefit was paid in the tax year ending June 30, 2016. Health Club or Social Club Dues There are contract arrangements with certain individuals that pay for the health costs which are included as compensation reported on Form W-2. In addition, the University will pay for social club dues for executive members to congregate and promote the university's mission while developing relationships that can further develop contributions to the university. Personal Services The University provides additional home health care medical services for the President and his wife to the extent such services are not covered by other insurance maintained by the President, his wife, or the University, and is not subject to reimbursement from other sources. These benefits have been authorized and approved by the Board of Trustees and are included in compensation on Schedule J, Part II, Column (b)(i).

Monitoring and Enforcement of Written Conflict of Interest Policy	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c The University monitors and enforces its conflict of interest policy on a continuous basis that involves consideration of all potential interested persons. A comprehensive review and discussion of the adopted policy is held annually with all university board of trustee members. At this meeting, the university's legal counsel reviews in detail the current policy to assure understanding and compliance with the disclosure process. Board members are required to submit necessary disclosure forms indicating whether a conflict exists, and if yes, all related details involving the potential conflict. An independent review of the disclosure forms is performed by the university's legal counsel, and if necessary, follow up requests for additional information is made. Throughout the year, at board of trustee meetings, the university's legal counsel monitors compliance by referencing the conflict of interest policy and communicates required steps to be taken in the event of a potential conflict of interest that may arise at any time. This process includes the university's officers as well. For key employees, meetings are held at the Dean's Council and operations group level that discuss the details of the conflict of interest policy and the necessary steps to be taken to disclose and report any potential conflicts. For potential transactions, agreements, and affiliations, etc. That may involve any university employee, a thorough review is conducted by university's legal counsel and other members of executive management. In the event of any potential conflict of interest exposure, required information is requested and reviewed on an independent basis. The interested person is excused from participating in any discussion or decisions that involve the outcome of any related transactions. In addition, during the employee orientation process, the university requires all new employees to review the conflict of interest policy and complete a conflict of interest disclosure form. If any potential conflicts of interests are disclosed, a complete review of information is completed by university's legal counsel to determine the nature, if any, of potential financial interests. If any conflict of interest is disclosed, then documentation is prepared outlining the nature of the conflict, discussions are held with those involved in the conflict, steps are taken to remove activities causing the conflict, and there is future follow up and monitoring of the potential conflict activity.
