Currently, F&W has seven summer time programs, each of which began at a different point in the last 74 years. At every camp, young people are challenged physically and socially, learn new skills, take exciting risks, and have time for quiet reflection. We emphasize building inclusive communities, celebrating difference, working and living simply, caring for nature, and respecting the Light in every person. In each of our camp programs, you will find a variety of activities offered with a different focus, schedule, and individual camp traditions (such as songs, special days, all camp games, and so on). Although the activities vary, all camps have the same overall program goals, which align with our Quaker values. Timberlake is our oldest camp, created with the ethic of hard work, great play, and lifelong friends for boys, living in nature. Indian Brook, a camp for girls, was designed for girls and young women to challenge themselves, learn their own strengths and find their voices. These two camps offer the widest range of program, barns and gardens, creative arts, outdoor living skills, carpentry and work projects, wilderness trips, and so much more. Two of our camps focus on specific program areas, Flying Cloud offers simple wood craft and primitive living skills and Saltash Mountain provides travel and wilderness challenge. We also have two offerings for 15-17 year old teenagers, Tamarack Farm, which emphasizes service, farm and work projects and Questers, a longer wilderness challenge and dynamic small group program. And for our youngest campers, the Barn Day Camp offers day programming which includes swim lessons, arts and crafts, nature and trip skills, building projects and many other great adventures!

Part X FIN48 Footnote	Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Organization and recognize a tax liability (or as set) if the Organization has taken an uncertain position that more-likely- than-not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Organization, and has concluded that as of December 31, 2016, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions, however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. Management believes it is no longer subject to income examinations for years prior to 2014.
