OF NEW YORK

Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

The American Geographical Society (AGS) is conducting a nationwide survey of public attitudes toward geography and public knowledge about geography. This is one part of a major study funded by the National Science Foundation. This "Roadmap" project is a joint effort of the National Geographic Society, the National Council for Geographic Education, the Association of American Geographers, and AGS. The overall goal of the larger project is geographic literacy, a matter of serious concern in the United States today. The project brings together the nation's leading thinkers in geography, education, and research to develop and disseminate a set of landmark reports focusing on four key issues for improving education: instructional materials for students, in-service and pre-service teacher training, assessment and research. It is anticipated that the results will guide K-12 educational reforms that will significantly improve the geographic literacy of U.S. youth over the next decade. The reports will make recommendations about crucial priorities for educators, policymakers, and funding agencies. The survey is designed as a voluntary effort with at least one (volunteer) faculty leader per state.
