-----------	---------	------------------------	--------------------------------	---------------

Room to Grow measures success with three primary program goals: parents gain the knowledge, resources, and confidence to ensure that children fulfill their emotional, intellectual, and physical potential; low-income families create safe, healthy, and enriching home environments in which their children learn and grow; and children thrive during their critical first three years of life, meeting appropriate language, cognitive, social, and physical milestones necessary to enter school ready to learn and achieve success in education and beyond. In 2016, (1) 98% of Room to Grow parents increased their confidence as parents and caretakers, (2) over 90% of parents read aloud to their children regularly, twice the rate of their low-income peers, and (3) nine out of 10 Room to Grow children met their primary developmental milestones on time, the same rate as their higher-income peers, 20% higher than expected in most low-income communities. Room to Grow has an 88% retention rate for program participants. In 2016, Room to Grow provided over 4,000 hours of clinical support to 600 babies and their families. Over the course of the year, nearly $500,000 worth of baby items were donated to Room to Grow and subsequently provided to families in need, including toys, baby equipment, clothing, and over 20,000 books. Each donation of baby items was received and organized by over 5,000 dedicated volunteers, who contributed over 12,000 service hours.

Grantmaker's Description of How Grants are Used	Parents visit Room to Grow every three months, starting at the mother's third trimester of pregnancy and then throughout the baby's first three years of life. At each visit, our social workers monitor the baby's developmental progress and help parents navigate the challenges and celebrate the joys of parenting. This includes helping parents understand their child's developmental stages, offering strategies to recognize and respond to their child's many needs, and providing resources and support to help cope with raising a child in typically stressful circumstances. At every visit parents also receive age-appropriate material necessities, allowing them to provide fully for their baby in an immediate and meaningful way.
