Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	SCORE has qualified for tax exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is not a private foundation. SCORE follows Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification guidance related to uncertain tax provisions. The guidance clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an organization's financial statements. This guidance prescribes a minimum probability threshold that a tax position must meet before a financial statement benefit is recognized. The minimum threshold is defined as a tax position that is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the applicable taxing authority, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. The tax benefit to be recognized is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. SCORE has no tax penalties or interest reported in the accompanying financial statements. Tax years that remain open for examination include the years ended December 31, 2013 through December 31, 2016.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service	POLICY AND ADVOCACY Advocacy SCORE works to build awareness and support and to sustain the momentum among organizations and individuals for education reform and improving student achievement in the state of Tennessee. In 2016, this work included -SCORE supported the Tennessee Department of Education in the introduction of the state's new aligned assessment, TNReady. To support this work, SCORE hosted several focus groups to gather input about TNReady, hosted telephone town halls to help build greater awareness and support for the new assessment, created a variety of support materials in English and Spanish that were distributed to parents, and led an outreach campaign that included a TV public service announcement and a social media campaign that better informed the public about the new assessment. -Each year SCORE produces an annual report, "The State of Education in Tennessee," which is a comprehensive assessment of public education in Tennessee. This report provides an update of the state's progress in improving student achievement, analyzes the work that has occurred over the last year that has contributed to achievement gains, and provides recommendations to the state to ensure that Tennessee continues on a pathway of preparing all students for success in college and the workforce. This report is grounded in extensive research and feedback from educators, higher education faculty, the Tennessee Department of Education, and business and philanthropic partners from across the state. -SCORE's legislative engagement in 2016 included organizing a Day on the Hill to bring dozens of educators, advocates, and other partners to Nashville for briefings and legislative visits to advocate for student-centered education policies. Additionally, SCORE convened and hosted a special Legislative Retreat for legislators, legislative staff, and partners to orient and prepare them for education issues that arise during legislative session. -Throughout the year SCORE worked to expand its outreach and communications efforts including presenting to a variety of different local, state, and national organizations in an effort to share Tennessee's work to improve student achievement, inspire partners, share resources, innovate, and/or gather information that continues to inform SCORE's work. Policy, Research, and Best Practice Sharing SCORE works to research key policies and develop tools and reports focused on sharing best practices across the state to advance SCORE's strategic priorities. In 2016, this work included -SCORE held the first SCORE Prize Summit in August, which brought together nearly 250 educators representing 40 school districts across Tennessee to learn more about promising practices, inspiring stories, and effective approaches to improving student achievement. -SCORE hosted two SCORE institutes in 2016. The first, featuring the President of the Thomas B. Fordham Institute, Mike Petrilli, focused on how post-secondary education is critical to help

The second SCORE institute focused on the work in Tennessee to improve teacher preparation and training and to help create greater urgency, innovation, and focus on such a critical topic. -SCORE produces a number of timely reports and policy memos as determined by the needs of SCORE's collaborative partners. In 2016, SCORE developed two policy papers. The first engaged more than 150 education partners, and the leaders of more than half of Tennessee's educator preparation programs, to better understand their approach to preparing teachers and to identify innovative practices within their programs, culminating in a special report on teacher preparation, "Prepared for Day One: Improving the Effectiveness of Early Career Teaching." Additionally, SCORE created an original research report to help inform how the Tennessee Department of Education and local districts can provide more resources and supports to educators across the state to help enhance their understanding and use of the Tennessee Value Added Assessment System.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Program Service	Technical Assistance SCORE works to collaboratively support key partners as their efforts align with SCORE's theory of change. In 2016, this work included -SCORE worked diligently to ensure stakeholder engagement and contributed in several meaningful ways to the development of the state's Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) plan. Specific activities included stakeholder roundtables with advocates from various stakeholder groups, formal and informal written feedback to the Tennessee Department of Education, participating in the state's ESSA working groups, and conducting a comprehensive review of the state's draft ESSA plan. -SCORE led and facilitated the creation of a new Education Communications Network of top communications staff from the state's education agencies, some of the largest school districts in the state, and key advocacy and education stakeholder organizations. The group convenes monthly to learn from each other, to share updates and information, and to align and amplify messaging on key issues. -SCORE is uniquely positioned to support the work of key organizations in Tennessee through fiscal sponsorship. Each fiscal sponsorship project aligns with SCORE's mission and theory of change and Tennessee's student achievement goals. In 2016, SCORE's fiscal sponsorship directly supported efforts for key partners with work streams including, strategic planning and monitoring, strategic communications and engagement, capacity-building, professional development and the creation of instructional materials, research and evaluation, and networking and convening.
