A board member with a conflict of interest will abstain from voting on the matter and will be excused from the portion of the meeting where the matter is discussed.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	All compensation is paid by Richmond Medical Center, a related tax-exempt organization ("the organization"). In 2009, the organization's board adopted a compensation policy (The "Policy") for covered individuals and employees down to department directors. Pursuant to the policy, a compensation committee of independent directors was established to review the compensation of all employees specified as having a substantial influence over the organization and who receive remuneration from the organization, including, among others, the organization's president and chief executive officer and the organization's chief financial officer. The compensation committee is advised by outside counsel and an independent compensation consultant, each of whom opine to the compensation committee that the level of compensation paid and the process by which compensation is established meet applicable IRS reasonableness and "safe harbor" standards. The outside compensation consultant provides data of compensation provided at similar organizations to ensure that the organization does not compensate in excess of market norms. This consultant was engaged each year from 2009 through 2012 to perform these services, and a market study was completed in 2015. The Compensation Committee of the board is comprised of independent persons. This committee reviews executive compensation annually and records their review in the meeting minutes.
