Form 990-EZ, Part III - Organization's Primary Exempt Purpose

The Center for Election Science is a nonpartisan nonprofit comprised of voting system experts and activists dedicated to helping people make better collective decisions. We pursue election-related scholarship, educating the general public, and promoting voting methods that most benefit the public good.

Form 990-EZ, Part III, Line 28 - Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

101 Research Advancement This year we organized a national poll comparing four different voting methods. Our sample included 2,000 nationally representative registered voters in the US. We were able to collect data on how people would vote given different voting methods as well as on tactical voting that would vary by voting method. This information helps us to understand how different voting methods are likely to play out in practice. We contracted this out with international polling agency, GfK. We were also able to collaborate with Policy Interactive to help field some preliminary questions before officially conducting the poll.

102 Public Outreach Our organization did our outreach through publishing articles and information on our website, writing for other sites, getting picked up by media, conferences, social media, and guest lecturing. We published over a dozen articles on our website this year. Our layperson-friendly articles focused on voting theory basics, voting methods conceptually applied to elections, voting in unique contexts, and election analysis with a voting method focus. Some 65K unique visitors were able to see our site for these articles. We published these articles as well as our other activities through social media where we have thousands of followers. Between our staff, advisors, and board members, we were able to land media coverage. These included Popular Mechanics, Huffington Post, Mesquite Local News, Grand Forks Herald, Bangor Daily News, and a reference by the documentary Third Candidates. Our staff contributed writing pieces to USA Today Magazine, Independent Voter Network, Democracy Chronicles, and OpEd News. We were able to attend and speak at the Free & Equal Electoral Symposium, discussing voting methods. Additionally, we did outreach at Politicon and FreedomFest (where we did a poll for their event). Finally, we gave an open lecture on voting methods for Northern Kentucky University. 103 Voting Method Advancement To help foster alternative voting method use in groups, our team of volunteer software developers have advanced a polling project where users can conduct polls with approval voting. We were asked for advice by legislators in New Hampshire who were proposing legislation on approval voting. There, we were able to offer informational support describing how approval voting works and its likely effects. We also provided services for The Webby Awards helping them to implement smarter voting methods for their awards. We provided polling services for the Republican Liberty Caucus as well advancing the usage of approval voting. Finally, a stakeholder from the city of Fargo, ND reached out to us as their elections commission was reviewing which voting method to use for electing their mayor. Here, we provided informational support and began planning future collaboration.
