The Houston in Motion Collaborative brought together members of immigrant and refugee communities from across the city to bring awareness to issues faced by members of the community and build systems for strengthened connection between previously disparate groups. Funding was utilized to make a film, entitled We Are In It, which has been screened across the globe and seen by nearly 10,000 people. Funding was also allocated for refugee artists working on projects across the city. This program was started in 2016 with approximately 5 artists, setting the stage for a large investment in future years. Funding also contributed to the construction of a community connection portal on www.houstoninmotion.org, which has approximately 300 monthly users. Finally, funds were used to conduct research on the city's refugee resettlement process, to be published in the summer of 2017.

Line 29

The Firestarter Group is committed to raising funds and awareness regarding social development issues in the Horn of Africa. In 2016, Firestarter undertook an effort to raise funds for a new business in Somaliland. Thanks to research conducted by Firestarter in 2015, we solicited individuals across the United States to donate funds to enable a Somaliland-based business, operating in one of the most economic regions in the world, to bring innovation into the region's nascent fishing industry. Firestarter created and shared materials highlighting the economic security, and sanitation improvements possible through the growth of the fishing industry. We were thus able to raise $20,000 to send overseas and incubate the growth of a social enterprise utilizing a community-based fish sales model.
