4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

Albert Cobarrubias Justice Project Comprised of the very families affected by the courts system, the Albert Cobarrubias Justice Project (ACJP) empowers families through education, training, and media production activities to affect positive change in the criminal justice system ACJP conducts the following activities

- o Ongoing Weekly Support Group Meetings to provide a supportive space for families to share their experiences with other families facing issues in the courts system
- o Ongoing Education and Community Organizing Activities to educate community members about local issues affecting the courts, and to implement solutions identified through ACJP
- o Ongoing Training Activities for community agencies, other non-profit agencies, and other interested agencies on how to engage the community in being active in the courts system
- o Ongoing Video and Media Production Activities to create videos and other media to assist families in telling the stories of their loved ones impacted by the courts system We will also provide media outlets online or in print that will feature articles and media (photo essays, video, etc) on larger issues on the courts
- o Network Coordination to support the development of participatory defense hubs in organizations throughout the country

Media Production Activities Since the Fall of 2001, Silicon Valley De-Bug provided an outlet for young people and disadvantaged individuals in the San Jose region to voice their opinions and experiences about the communities they live in through media production and training. De-Bug prints a semi-annual magazine and runs a daily online website that features these writings and media. De-Bug also trains young people and adults from disadvantaged communities in art and media production skills such as writing, video production, art, design, photography, and audio production.
