Part III, Primary Exempt Purpose

Our mission is to enable older residents of Central Seattle to age in their own homes and participate in an intergenerational community that shares knowledge, experience, and services with each other so living is easier and more joyful. We offer members a wide variety of services and other assistance, including health and in-home services, social, educational, and cultural activities, and community engagement -- all designed to foster belonging, security, and participation in the life of the community

Part III, Line 28, Member Services

When Wider Horizons opened in June, 2015, we had 64 members. Since then, we've welcomed 23 new members and lost 14 -- 6 left because they moved, 8 chose to not renew because the village wasn't quite right for them. As such, at the close of 2016, we have 73 members. 75% of our members are actively engaged in one way or another; many of these are engaged in multiple ways. 29% of our current members receive a discount on their dues, which is higher than our goal of 25%.

Demographically speaking, 8 people (11%) are non-white. 25% are men. Half live alone; the other half are married or live with family (2 households). 49% are in their 70's; 26% in their 60's, 15% in their 80's; 4 people are under 60 and 3 are over 90.

All of our services are related to acquiring and serving members, who (once they have joined) are entitled to both community-building activities (social, educational, other) and need-based services (provided by other members, volunteers, and referrals to recommended services).

1. Community-Building

Community-building is the central principle of our village. We include our volunteers and the wider community in this effort and it is both woven into everything we do and can be teased out as follows from some of our accomplishments:

- We have a Magazine Group, a Book Group, and a Warm for Winter Group (knitting hats & scarves for homeless people), each of which meets monthly
- We have a new Men's Coffee Group organized by male members
- We have regular membership meetings of all members, including potlucks and parties
- People meet in smaller, neighborhood groups called "pods" for social and cultural activities
- There are spontaneous, off-the-cuff music, theater and walking groups

• The holidays (a time when some struggle with loneliness and depression) saw 5 parties hosted by 8 members (compared to last year when there were 4 parties); these parties were attended by more than 40 people

• An ambitious garden project at a member's home has now been put to bed for the winter and planning for spring planting has begun

• We've had two series of classes on healthcare advocacy and one series on end-of-life planning

• And looking forward, on February 13, 2017, Aegis on Madison and Wider Horizons will co-sponsor an event at Aegis celebrating 15 years of villages. Atul Gawande's webcast on community will be featured. We are inviting prospective members and donors and will ask our members to bring a guest if they wish

In addition, we gave a $50 donation to Elderwise in support of activities similar to ours.

2. Need-driven Services

Members request services at quite a low level (averaging fewer than 1 person a week making a request); sometimes these requests cover multiple rides—for example to physical therapy or grocery shopping.

Some requests defy categorization or have a great story wrapped around them (for example, a member reading The New Yorker to another member with limited vision).

Most services are provided by members to other members, but we have some very talented home repair and technology volunteers.
