Part IX-A Summary of Direct Charitable Activities

List the foundation's four largest direct charitable activities during the tax year. Include relevant statistical information such as the number of organizations and other beneficiaries served, conferences convened, research papers produced, etc.	Expenses
1 The Foundation owns and operates a Christian Conference Center (the "Center"). Operations are just beginning and the Center will soon be used for the active conduct of church programs and youth programs affiliated with the churches that are involved with the Center and may include day camps with educational and religious training. The Foundation will conduct a series of Christian educational and counseling programs that will be offered to Christian parishes and members of the general public free of charge and will be presented by volunteer Christian counselors who have significant experience in the counseling field. The Foundation will work closely with local Christian congregations to promote the outreach and services offered by the Foundation. The Foundation also plans to maintain short-term housing facilities for church missionaries who are on a furlough or for other church workers who need short-term housing while doing church-related work.	96,497
2 The Foundation plans to actively conduct charitable work in poverty-stricken communities in China and is just beginning these operations. This charitable work will focus on dental disease prevention and raising the standard of dental care in China. This will be done by conducting clinical workshops, seminars on dental disease prevention, and teaching dental disease prevention methods. The Foundation will also provide dental supplies, including home care dental supplies, for those in need. Finally, the Foundation plans to apply to the local government in China for permission to start a church in the communities in which the foundation is conducting its dental disease prevention work. Several volunteers have already been active in China and helped establish the Hebei International Christian Fellowship. To date, no significant expenses related to China activities have been paid by the Foundation.	0
