The Best Buddies International friendship programs match volunteers with and without intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) in one-to-one friendship matches through four unique programs Middle Schools, High Schools, Colleges, and Citizens Best Buddies has grown from a single college program, started at Georgetown University in 1989, and has grown to 2,352 global chapters in 54 countries The Best Buddies' friendship programs year in review below showcases the progress being made globally to reach our 2020 initiative Best Buddies Citizens The Best Buddies Citizens program remains consistently strong in providing opportunities for adults in the community with disabilities to be paired in one to one friendships with their peers Currently the programs boasts 1,362 matches across the nation and in 20 countries States are expanding opportunities to offer adult volunteers participation in the program by developing Citizen Chapters, which matches employees at a single company with peers from the community with disabilities The pairs are matched on the company's site and - with the support and guidance of lead company volunteers and Best Buddies staff - participate in monthly activities and one to one outings With this model creating more effective matching opportunities in most states, the program is poised to grow Community citizen friendship programs are also expected to increase, especially with the recent expansion of the program to the Washington D C region, which will provide friendship opportunities for volunteers in the District and in Northern Virginia Best Buddies CollegesBest Buddies oldest program is expanding at greater rates than ever before, bringing the opportunity of friendship and inclusive leadership to campuses where people with disabilities are not often seen or included The Best Buddies Colleges program is currently active on 493 campuses, this is an increase of nearly 50 chapters within the last year Expansion efforts in upstate New York, North Carolina, and Southern Tennessee have supported the program's growth domestically Internationally, the college program continues to thrive This past year, efforts have been focused on connecting college leaders from the United States with college leaders in Moscow, Russia through webinar discussions about program challenges, strengths, and the impact of the mission on their campuses Recently, college students travelled to Moscow to meet with their peer college leaders from universities in Moscow Together, these leaders networked, shared, and explored their programs' history, overlap, and differences in providing acceptance for people of all abilities on campuses worldwide Though Moscow only has four college programs, the domestic programs are growing at an incredible rate and Best Buddies is excited for future expansion of the program in the Northwest Best Buddies High Schools Best Buddies High Schools continues to serve as the organization's largest program, the growth of the program has introduced chapters in nearly 80 new schools this year alone, bringing the total global involvement to 1,184 schools The opening of the new state office in North Carolina and expansion efforts in the Midwest coupled with interest in expansion in the Pacific Northwest has provided Best Buddies the opportunity to share the high school program with hundreds of new and interested volunteers To engage and support the rapid expansion, Best Buddies is providing new resources and tools to educate, connect, and inform participants The Best Buddies App rolled out at the annual Leadership Conference in 2016, this mobile app - available on iOS and Android - allows chapter members, parents, and volunteers to share their Best Buddies friendships and community engagement with a global network of Beset Buddies app users Using photographs and hashtags, the organization is able to track and engage with the mission in action as programs expand worldwide Best Buddies Middle SchoolsThe Best Buddies Middle School program has increased engagement and improved leadership opportunities this year thanks in part to new partners and supportive resources, providing this relatively new program enhanced growth and mission-driven success The program, currently in 357 chapters, has increased by 25 new programs this year Expansion efforts in Philadelphia, Tennessee, and Albany have allowed the program to engage a larger network of participants in Best Buddies youth programming, this has been especially valuable in building a strong foundation for the mission in communities where the high school and college programs are already successful This year, Best Buddies has partnered with Sanford Harmony, a social emotional learning program sponsored through National University Through this partnership, Best Buddies has provided all middle school chapters an engaging toolkit specifically designed by Sanford Harmony to enhance participation in the Best Buddies mission The kits were developed with the Best Buddies goals of communication, acceptance, tolerance, diversity, and inclusion in mind In addition to the kits, the Sanford Harmony organization provides ongoing training support, resources, and online forums for teachers and parents to learn best practices for utilizing the toolkits to better engage volunteers in the Best Buddies mission in the community and in connecting with their friends on campus This comprehensive, quality curriculum for the middle school program has established stronger commitment and more sustainable involvement from all volunteers e-Buddies' 954 Buddies, 912 Volunteers, 1,966 total active members" 1,167 unique matches" 42,353 e-mail messages exchanged" 551 posts on message boards" 81 school groups, 33 non-schools groups with active members" Participants in 49 US states (and the District of Columbia) and 13 other countries e-Buddies is an e-mail pen pal program that matches people with intellectual and developmental disabilities in one-to-one e-mail friendships with peer volunteers who do not have intellectual or developmental disabilities Participants include children and adults from 50 US states, as well as international participants from the countries Australia, Austria, Canada, China, Germany, Ireland, New Zealand, Saint Kitts and Nevis, South Africa, Spain, Turkey, United Arab Emirates and the United Kingdom In 2016, e-Buddies served over 1,990 total participants through 1,167 unique one-to-one matches These participants exchanged over 40,000 e-mails, and posted more than 500 messages on the e-Buddies community message boards e-Buddies is also educational, and has been used in special education classrooms to help teach literacy skills, computer skills, and social skills in one safety-focused activity In 2016, e-Buddies was used as a teaching tool in the classroom by 114 special education teachers and other disabilities professionals across the country Leadership Development Programs Ambassadors and Promoters Best Buddies AmbassadorsBest Buddies has developed an enhanced strategic training syllabus for all ambassadors, this new training module will effectively allow all ambassadors to scaffold on developed skills and enhance their self-advocacy and presentation abilities Along with these improved training resources, a more advanced tracking system of these trainings, including the type of training and number of ambassadors engaged, has been established to ensure more accurate data and that sustained support is provided to ambassadors In 2016, 710 individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities participated in these trainings, from writing, to networking and conversational advocacy, to job preparation, Best Buddies Ambassadors are developing skills to ensure all trained members are well-rounded, engaged, and informed leaders for the organization who feel confident and prepared to share the Best Buddies movement Best Buddies PromotersBest Buddies Promoters has seen the most significant growth this year with the introduction of the elementary school program This program, now introduced in 35 elementary schools nationwide, provides the opportunity for students of all abilities to participate in group activities alongside new friends In engaging in social learning, activities, and ongoing events, students normalize the concept of friendship and acceptance of people with different abilities The program offers sensitivity training and awareness building The goal is to ensure acceptance, understanding and awareness from the start of school, the hope being that no student will feel isolated during their schooling years when friendships are organically developed at this young age With the expansion to new schools - and the high school and middle school program also expanding faster than the friendship models at these levels - the Promoters program has more than doubled since 2015 Best Buddies Promoters is currently active in 318 high schools, mi
