Part X, Line 2	The Association follows the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. The Association's policy is to record a liability for any tax position taken that is beneficial to the Association, including any related interest and penalties, when it is more likely than not the position taken by management with respect to a transaction or class of transactions will be overturned by a taxing authority upon examination. Management believes there are no such positions as of December 31, 2016 and 2015 and, accordingly, no liability has been accrued.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	CRRA uses comparability data (from Forms 990 of other organizations and by compensation studies of other similarly sized Realtor(r) associations) to determine the salary of the CEO After an annual performance review occurs, comparability data is reviewed to determine if any pay change is deemed warranted. The individuals approving the compensation and the data upon which they rely is documented in the executive committee minutes. With regards to other officers and highly compensated employees, CRRA participates in an annual salary survey that is offered by a local employment organization as well as comparisons of other similarly sized Realtor(r) associations and MLS salaries. Additionally, CRRA participates in an informal Realtor(r) Association survey on a regional basis to compare not only salaries but also benefits. Lastly, various reports are purchased from professional organizations to compare non-profit salaries on a national basis if pay adjustments exceeding a cost-of-living increase are in question.
