Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

One horse + one child = changed lives That is the essence of Saddle Up! Whether our programs are teaching riding skills, providing physical/occupational therapy, or teaching life or academic skills, they all boil down to bringing together the horse and child - and watching the magic happen! Of course, our participants aren't the only ones whose lives are changed Families, volunteers, staff, friends, supporters and others also share that And it all works because of the power of the horse!Saddle Up! had another solid year in 2016 including -Serving 274 total participants with 61% boys and 39% girls from Middle Tennessee -Continuing our equine assisted learning program partnership with Benton Hall Academy -Seeing progress of patients in our physical or occupational therapy program -Providing a total 5,546 total hours of programs, a 23% increase since 2011 -Ending the year with only 108 children on our waiting list - a huge decrease from the 340-plus of the past -Benefitting from the talents and time of over 500 volunteers who gave more than 16,000 hours of service!-Experiencing the power of the horse in all of our programs to change lives!Programs are offered year-round at our state-of-the-art, ADA compliant facility on our 34-acre farm near Franklin, TN Our equine-based programs are for children/youth with disabilities from ages 4 through 18, with the exception of hippotherapy which begins at age 2 Saddle Up! is a Premier Accredited Center of the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship (PATH) International, which sets the standards for quality and safety in equine-based programs We are the only facility member in Tennessee of the American Hippotherapy Association Information on specific programs follow 1 Recreational therapeutic horseback riding program Our recreational therapeutic riding program is our foundation program and represents the biggest majority of participants served Though recreational, the program definitely delivers therapeutic benefits For example, children with cerebral palsy can gain core strength which improves their mobility, posture and breathing Children on the autism spectrum can increase social and communications skills We've literally had children say their first word ever to their horse! For many participants, this is their only recreational outlet As a group, the riders daily deal with more than 50 types of disabilities including autism, cerebral palsy, developmental delays, Down syndrome, learning disabilities, and hearing or vision loss In a recreational therapeutic riding lesson each participant has a Saddle Up! team that includes -A Saddle Up! Instructor who has earned certification from the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International, the organization that sets the standards for safety and quality -Specially trained volunteers who serve as horse leaders or sidewalkers The majority of Saddle Up! riders require one to three volunteers for their lessons A few riders are able to progress to riding independently under the direction of the Instructor Volunteers founded Saddle Up! and remain the lifeblood of the organization, serving in all capacities from Board governance to barn cleaning In 2016, our 500-plus volunteers gave more than 16,000 hours of service with a value of $379,811 (based on the Independent Sector volunteer value per hour in Tennessee) -And, of course, the heroic horse, that four-legged creature whose movement and bond with humans brings out the best in participants, volunteers and staff The program would not work without the power of this magnificent animal Saddle Up!'s "horse staff" averaged 24 specially trained equines Plus our 2 miniature horses who play big roles in programs Though the riders see it as fun - and, yes, it is, big time! - the lessons provide multiple benefits For children with mobility problems, horseback riding mimics the experience of walking For those with cognitive disabilities, it improves concentration, recognition, vocabulary, and task completion The horse-human bond can help improve personal relationships, patience and behavior for children with psychological or emotional challenges In fact, several children have said their first words to their horses at Saddle Up! Others have demonstrated progress, for example, with posture and strength improvements that increase their everyday mobility As one parent said, "When we first arrived at Saddle Up! for our first lesson, I realized this is way more than a riding program I was completely blown away "Saddle Up! focuses on the abilities of each child That means every child works toward achieving his or her individual potential, whatever that may be The impact for the child can be seen in some recent comments by parents -"This has been very valuable for my son Not only has his physical strength improved, but also his social skills "-"It provides a sense of freedom and independence these children may not otherwise experience while building self-confidence "-"Our family is so thankful to be part of Saddle Up! It is such a wonderful program!"-"Our child, who is basically nonverbal, really enjoys his time spent in the saddle and taking care of 'his' horse "-"This is the blessing place for my children I love to see my son riding the horse Thank you for being part of our life God bless you all "2 Saddle Up! Equestrian Club (SUEC) The SUEC serves more advanced and independent riders It offers the chance to learn more about horse care, barn work and riding The participants earn recognition for various levels of individual achievement as they increase their skills and knowledge The program is modeled after the United States Pony Club 3 Therapy services Our physical and occupational therapy program a medically-based and requires a medical referral and specially certified therapists (physical therapist, occupational therapist or speech-language pathologist) Saddle Up! began its hippotherapy program as a small pilot in the spring of 2012 The Board of Directors approved making it a regular program offering in the fall 2013 based on the success of the pilot program Saddle Up! is the only facility member in Tennessee of the American Hippotherapy Association 4 Professional training and certification program Saddle Up! has long provided opportunities for candidates seeking national certification as a Registered level Instructor by PATH Intl We also offer an Instructor-in-Training program for candidates to be trained, mentored and have hands-on experience with lessons to prepare for the workshop and certification process Instructors are the key to ensuring that Saddle Up! participants have lessons that focus on abilities and needs of each individual child/youth and that are conducted with the highest standards for quality and safety Saddle Up! requires its Instructors to be certified by PATH International, which sets the standards for quality and safety for therapeutic equine assisted activities and programs In 2014, we expanded our professional training opportunities by offering a Level 1 course of the American Hippotherapy Association (AHA) that is now part of our ongoing commitment to help increase the number of certified therapists Our workshops typically draw candidates from 10 to 15 states, plus Saddle Up!'s candidates Providing this program benefits Saddle Up! through developing a strong core of qualified Instructors and the therapeutic equine assisted field by providing a place for candidates from other programs to earn certifications 5 Workshops, seminars and community education We also provide educational opportunities that are open to other equine-assisted programs as part of our commitment to the field Workshops and seminars are offered throughout the year on a variety of topics from American Sign Language to first aid to equine care
