Facts And Circumstances Test

990 Schedule A, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part II, Section C, Line 17A, Facts and circumstances test	Georgia Community Foundation is a community trust that was established to attract large contributions of a capital or endowment nature for the benefit of the State of Georgia and communities therein. GCF is organized and operated in a manner that is designed to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis sufficient to meet the facts and circumstances test by: 1) seeking gifts and bequests from a wide range of potential donors in the community, through banks or trust companies, attorneys, investment advisors, CPAs or other professional persons, or in other appropriate ways that call attention to GCF as a potential recipient of gifts and bequests made for the benefit of Georgia or communities in Georgia, 2) including on its Board persons who represent the broad interests of the public, rather than the personal or private interests of a limited number of donors, including public officials and former public officials, persons having special knowledge or expertise in the particular field or policy disciplines in which GCF operates, community leaders, such as elected or appointed officials, clergymen, educators, civic leaders, and other such persons representing a broad cross-section of the views and interests of the community, 3) developing and promoting policies and programs that are designed to improve the State of Georgia and communities therein, including in the field of education, health, philanthropy, law, and social services, and 4) publishing papers and briefs that promote the welfare of Georgia and its citizens. In 1996 the IRS ruled that GCF qualified for public charity status as a qualified community trust within the meaning of Treasury Regulation 1.170A-9(f)(10), because it is organized and operated so as to attract new and additional public or government support sufficient to meet the facts and circumstances test.
