Part III Statement of Program Service AccomplishmentsCheck if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III ☒1 Briefly describe the organization's mission

Connected Nation is an internationally recognized nonprofit organization whose mission is to improve digital inclusion for people and places previously underserved and overlooked. Connected Nation believes that states, communities, families and individuals can realize great economic and social advantages when we accelerate broadband availability and increase broadband use in all areas, rural and urban, alike. Connected Nation facilitates public-private partnerships to increase access, adoption, and use of broadband and related technology, creating dramatic results that translate into economic and community growth, better education, higher quality healthcare, more efficient public service and improved quality of life. Connected Nation is a leader among organizations that work in the trenches to bridge the digital divide and increase opportunities that are enabled when people have the ability and desire to connect.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? ☐ Yes ☒ No

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported4a (Code) (Expenses $ 1,838,157 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 1,053,427)

Connected Nation's Connect Program comprises community planning, technical assistance and research, mapping, and awareness building and outreach. Community planning, also known as the Connected Community Engagement Program or Connecteds, is a facilitated broadband and technology planning effort designed to address the most pressing technology challenges facing communities today. Connected engages local leaders to evaluate their community's current state of technology access, adoption, and use. Connected offers communities the opportunity to measure the supply, demand, and use of technology in the community with unprecedented data gathering, analysis, and planning. Connected's unique community technology assessment provides insight into the local technology ecosystem, identifies gaps and opportunities, and supports the development of an actionable technology plan to improve the community's standing in the digital economy. Connected program staff gather community leaders who are also technology champions to assess the current state of access, adoption, and use of technology in their community. The program is serviced via a dedicated web portal as well as community meetings and helps communities frame their needs around broadband infrastructure mapping, the FCC's National Broadband Plan goals, and best practices for local technology assimilation. The program matches implementable solutions with locally identified barriers to access, adoption, and use. The portfolio of communities engaged in the program provides a nationally recognized platform for highlighting communities that are excelling across the access, adoption, and use measures in the areas of broadband and technology access, adoption, and use. Technical assistance and research opens up a gateway to educational, informational, governmental, health, and social resources. The Organization has worked with policymakers, community champions, researchers, businesses, educators, and community leaders to offer guidance, expertise, and research to expand broadband to underserved areas across the nation. The Organization's industry-leading research into broadband demand and usage, as well as barriers to broadband adoption, provides the needed information for communities to make informed decisions. Combined with its innovative maps, the Organization's programs give an unprecedented view of an area's broadband landscape. Mapping relies on the cooperation of private providers, and the Organization's community expansion efforts similarly rely on work with the private sector. The Organization actively seeks to engage partners from all sectors in the work of bridging the digital divide. These public-private partnerships allow the Organization to provide tangible results in communities across the nation. Raising awareness of the issues surrounding broadband expansion is a key component of the Organization's mission. The Organization facilitates broadband summits which bring together stakeholders from government, non-profits, the provider community, education, and other sectors, along with other industry leaders, to offer a unique opportunity for direct engagement, planning, and knowledge sharing. Similarly, the Organization actively works with individual communities to engage them in the planning process by offering a comprehensive structure and the needed support to expand broadband access locally.

4b (Code) (Expenses $ 958,896 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Connected Nation's Digital Works program is a unique and sustainable job creation strategy that brings high-demand technology-based jobs to local communities within vulnerable demographic and geographic populations. Digital Works connects twenty-first century workforce opportunities to people who are seeking employment by addressing skill gaps and leveraging broadband technology for customer relationship management outsourcing and advanced remote information technology positions. Using the digital learning model, the Digital Works program trains, places, and mentors high-quality candidates and locates co-working centers in settings where job demand is high, few employers exist, and the cost of living is low. This includes rural and more urban settings as well. At the end of training, workers are provided job opportunities that match their skills and career goals.

4c (Code) (Expenses $ 705,155 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Connected Nation's Education program is a set of K-12-focused education initiatives that identifies and addresses school connectivity and classroom technology deficiencies and the lack of Internet access at home (known as the "homework gap") among vulnerable populations through programs and services that directly address these issues. Through policy advocacy and research, the Organization seeks to ensure that federal and state programs such as E-rate have the maximum effect on these issues. The Organization works with federal and state executive branch agencies, lawmakers, school district leaders, and corporate partners to develop and implement best practices to increase the speed and quality of Internet and WAN access in schools while lowering costs and improving school network designs. The Organization also works with corporate partners to implement philanthropic programs that make connectivity solutions, such as mobile LTE data services, available to students for at-home use.
