| Part III         | The accounting method is cash. Accordingly, cash grants are recorded only as recipients pick up their money orders at the disbursing bank in Riga, where this organization maintains a checking account for disbursing such grant payments. The sole purpose of this account is to receive funds and make distributions to grantees. The bank charges a small service charge against the organization's account for each disbursement. Grant disbursements are typically made up to four times per year to each recipient. |
