Name: The Frick Collection

Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Museum Program The Collection maintains and conserves over 1,400 works of art as part of its permanent art collection and the historic interiors of the Gilded Age mansion that houses them. The permanent art collection is made accessible to the public through exhibitions, research, and publications, as well as an array of education programs that seek to deepen the public's knowledge and appreciation for works of art in the permanent collection and art generally. Museum attendance during the 2016 tax year was approximately 266,000 visitors. See Schedule O for a description of the special exhibitions and other public education programs offered during the year.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Library Program In addition to serving the curatorial and other research staff of the Collection, the Frick Art Reference Library serves members of general public with an interest in art, including students, scholars, art professionals, and collectors. The library's book and photograph research collections relate chiefly to paintings, drawings, sculpture, prints, and illuminated manuscripts from the fourth to the mid-twentieth centuries by European and American artists. Archival materials and special collections augment the research collections with documents pertaining to the history of collecting art and of Henry Clay Frick's collecting in particular. During the 2016 tax year, the library served 5,823 visitors, responded to 1,017 email inquiries and answered 3,292 on-site research questions. See Schedule O for additional information.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 1a If organization elected under SFAS 116 to not report are, historical treasures, o	In accordance with elections made under Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No 116 (SFAS 116), the Collection does not include either the cost or the value of its collections on its statement of financial position, nor does it recognize gifts of collection items as revenues in its statement of activities. Collection items are considered works of art, historical treasures, general research collections, and similar assets held for public exhibition, education, or research in furtherance of public service rather than financial gain.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part III, Line 4 Description of organization's collections and how it furthers its purpose	The Frick Collection was established by Pittsburgh industrialist Henry Clay Frick, who, upon his death in 1919, bequeathed his New York residence (since designated a National Historic Landmark) and remarkable collection of European paintings, sculpture and decorative arts for the enjoyment of the public and for the advancement of the study of fine arts and kindred subjects. The Frick Art Reference Library of the Collection was established in 1920 by Frick's daughter, Helen Clay Frick. The library's book and photograph research collections relate chiefly to paintings, drawings, sculpture, prints, and illuminated manuscripts from the 4th to the mid-20th centuries by European and American artists, and its archival materials and special collections augment the research collections with documents pertaining to the history of collecting art and of Frick's collecting in particular. The Collection's mission is to preserve and display for the public Frick's art collection in a domestic setting and to augment the Collection's art holdings, to provide access, understanding and enjoyment of the art collection to the public through special exhibitions, publications, public education programs, and research, to offer the visiting public an engaging view of life in the Gilded Age, and to serve as a center for research and to stimulate scholarship in the history of art and the history of collecting works of art.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part V, Line 4 Intended uses of the endowment fund	The aggregate endowment funds of The Frick Collection are the foundation of the institution. The endowments ensure the Frick's continued vitality by providing a consistent flow of funds that support all programmatic, facility and related administrative costs of the organization.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X FIN48 Footnote	The Collection recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Management has determined that the Collection has no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement disclosure. The Collection is no longer subject to audits by the applicable taxing jurisdictions for periods prior to 2014.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15b Compensation Review and Approval Process for Officers and Key Employees	The Compensation Committee of the Board of Trustees recommends the compensation of the Director and Chief Executive Officer (the "Director") to the full Board of Trustees for its review and approval. The Compensation Committee also is responsible for setting the compensation of the other officers and key employees (who are compensated in their capacity as employees and not as officers) and other key employees based on the recommendations of the Director. The positions for which this procedure is followed are the the Chief Financial Officer and Assistant Treasurer, the General Counsel and Assistant Secretary, Deputy Director and Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Curator, the Deputy Director for External Affairs, and the Chief Librarian. In determining the reasonableness of compensation paid to each of the foregoing individuals, the Compensation Committee, and the Board of Trustees in the case of the Director, reviews comparability data available for peer organizations, including Forms 990 and published compensation surveys. The compensation analysis is undertaken annually, and the most recent review for each individual holding the positions listed above was undertaken in the 2016 tax year. The Compensation Committee additionally engaged an independent compensation consultant in the 2015 tax year to conduct a compensation survey for the position of Director and Chief Executive Officer.
