Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Program Highlights - We create reports to advocate for policy changes. AAF produces comprehensive research publications to highlight community needs and advocate for policy changes in order to improve access to essential services. Latest Publication includes Analysis of City Government Funding to Social Service Organizations Serving the Asian American Community in New York City, which highlights the lack of city funding given to Asian-serving organizations despite a 33 percent growth in the Asian population from 2000-2013, NYC's Economic Engine: Contributions & Challenges of Asian Small Business, which illustrates the significant economic contributions of Asian-owned small businesses and need for support services to sustain and grow those businesses, and Asian American Seniors in New York City: An Updated Snapshot, which quantifies the significant growth and demographic changes in the Asian senior population and identifies their unique service needs. We respond to emerging community needs. We raise awareness of and address emerging issues affecting the pan-Asian American community, which we identify through our research and close working relationships with our member agencies. In the past several years, we have focused on Organizing community education events to address the rise in bullying of Asian American youth and the impact on their mental health, Convening our member and partner agencies to identify the growing mental health issues in the Asian community as well as recommendations to develop service capacity for the community, Providing education and training to Asian American leaders and community members on how the new administrations policies are impacting the Asian community and ways in which we can respond to protect the needs of our community, Partnering with our member agency, the Council of Peoples Organization, to provide immigrant integration service to over 550 Asian Muslim immigrants through our ONA Opportunity Center, and Providing professional development training to over 100 teachers of English as a New Language students in Chinatowns elementary schools. We invest in the growth of emerging nonprofit organizations. We provide leadership training and technical assistance to developing organizations that serve our city's ever-expanding Asian communities. In the past year, we held 25 workshops, panels, and consultations for nearly 1,000 nonprofit leaders and staff on topics such as board governance, fundraising and communication strategies, and effective advocacy as nonprofits.
