Return Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 2	Financial aid is offered to qualified students on the basis of the demonstrated financial need of the family and the availability of funds. The School subscribes to the School and Student Services (SSS). SSS assesses a family's financial need by taking the detailed financial information supplied by the family and applying it to a formula nationally accepted by independent schools. SSS then prepares a Report of Family Contribution (RFC), which it sends to the School with a recommendation as to the amount which the family can contribute toward their child's education. The School's Financial Aid Committee will use this recommendation as a starting point for determining a family's award, bearing in mind that there are many special conditions surrounding each family's financial situation. The Financial Aid Committee also takes into account a family's financial strength relative to all of the families who are applying for aid as well as the availability of funds which the school has budgeted for this purpose.
