Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Community Resource Network - Arc advocates help individuals with mental retardation and their families by working hard to protect their rights and to ensure that they obtain the services they need to become fully participating citizens. Advocates support parents in securing special education services, and help them understand and navigate through other service systems. They also assist individuals in finding housing, provide information and referral services, speak to community groups, and develop educational programs concerning the prevention of mental retardation.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Penn Employment Services -By matching highly motivated and qualified individuals to jobs that fit their interests and abilities, the Arc's Penn Employment Program offers people with disabilities the means to learn specific job skills and to find satisfying employment. Penn Employment also partners with school districts to provide community exploration and part-time employment to high school students in order to prepare them for life after high school. This program currently serves approximately 120 people.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Support Services - State program that purchases various pieces of equipment or software, or makes home/van improvements that help people with any kind of disability live a more normal life. The York County Department of Human Services makes the purchase, sends the bill to the ARC, and the ARC pays the vendor after the ARC has been reimbursed by the state.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	The Organization is exempt from federal income taxes as an organization described under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(c)(3), except for net income derived from unrelated business activities, if any. The Organization's open audit periods are 2014 through 2016. ASC No. 740-10, "Income Taxes," prescribes a comprehensive model for how an organization should measure, recognize, present, and disclose uncertain tax positions taken on its tax returns. The Organization believes that it has appropriate support for tax positions taken and, as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the consolidated financial statements.
