Explanation: During a final check of the submission, we discovered there was an error in data imported from our card payment processor which caused a significant misstatement of revenue and expenses. This error was caused by a change to the format of the export which was beyond our control. Upon discovering the error, we worked to correct the mistake, however this required recoding a large number of transactions which could not be completed before the deadline. The error in the data format was corrected, and we have implemented ongoing checks to ensure this problem does not recur.
