Once all facts are disclosed, the remaining board will vote on whether a conflict of interest exists. The board will also discuss other alternatives and determine whether the transaction or arrangement is in the organization's best interest and whether it is fair and reasonable. Conflict of interest discussions are documented in the minutes of the board of directors if the board has reasonable cause to believe an interested person has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict, it shall inform the person, and give him/her an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. The board shall then take appropriate action.
