Name: DuPage County Bar Association

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Driver Improvement School (DIS) is administered by the DCBA It is a series of driver programs that were developed by and are overseen by the National Safety Council Instructors must be trained by NSC These 4-6 hour classes are assigned to drivers who have been ticketed in DuPage County and received supervision with a class when they attended court for a ticket The judge determines which class is assigned to each offender, most of whom are under 25, and the judge gives them information about our classes to be taken within their 6-month supervision period after which they return to court with a certificate from the live classes or printout certificate from the online class As part of this service, we have also programmed a matchup of DIS record completions with court traffic records so that completion of a required class is automatically recorded on the offenders court record, assuming all required data has been entered correctly to allow for the match The program gives the DCBA administrator a list each day of any completed classes that did not match with a court record so that she can review and adjust the data manually to make the matches

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Lawyer Referral Service (LRS) is a program that refers the public to an attorney who practices the area of law they need assistance with Both through calls to the office and an online interface, the public will receive up to half hour consultation with an attorney It is up to the person to contact the attorney and make an appointment for the consultation The client does not pay any fee to the referral service, nor does the attorney charge for the initial consultation Beyond the consultation, attorneys charge their regular rates Attorneys, DCBA members or not, pay an annual fee to belong to the referral service They must submit an application and have proof they have experience in the areas they will represent and have malpractice insurance in effect We currently limit the number of referrals given to a client, for the same situation, to 3 which they can get all at once, if they prefer

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Attorney court IDs The 18th circuit allows DCBA to process court security passes to attorneys who must prove they are licensed for the current year, by presenting their current ARDC card and/or looking them up on the IARDC org website which will show their latest year of licensing along with other ID and payment They must also complete a form each year with their current contact info, etc DCBA provides them with an ID card that includes a uniquely numbered transponder that works with the security system the circuit has in place and a laminate that is printed for each new year including the attorneys photo, name and the transponder number The 2 pieces stick to each other to create the ID DCBA personnel sends the updated or new ID information and photos to court security each day for them to update their database Court security personnel have a screen that will show the attorneys photo when they use the ID at the attorney security line, based on the transponder number corresponding with the ID database for the same number The circuit requires proof that an attorney is licensed each year, so every DuPage ID expires on January 31 and must be updated before then to continue uninterrupted access DCBA purchases the transponders, laminate cards for printing the front, application cards and supplies for the special printer that is required, etc Attorneys are charged $30 for a new transponder ID, $20 to update a usable past transponder ID each year We also partner with the Kane County Bar (KCBA) in providing their members with IDs The IDs work for both DuPage and Kane Circuit courts Approximately 4000-5000 IDs are produced each year so this can be a very staff time intensive process during the prime renewal period of December February
