Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	CCAF has a written conflict of interest policy which applies to all members of the Board of Directors and all management team employees. Such individuals sign and certify an annual statement disclosing whether they have any potential or actual conflicts of interest with respect to the organization's operations. During discussions on grant applications, Board members are asked whether they have a conflict of interest with any applicant and, if so, to recuse themselves from the review of the application as well as the vote for approval of the grant application. In addition, CCAF's employee handbook contains a conflict of interest policy which applies to all employees, such policy is supported by the active enforcement of CCAF's whistleblower protection policy, which encourages the reporting of potential illegal and unethical conduct, including conflicts of interest.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	CCAF uses an independent compensation firm to set the compensation for all employees including all management. The independent compensation firm reviews current job descriptions and compares them to similar positions in similar California based organizations to determine a market-based compensation range. The compensation benchmarking is performed every 3 to 5 years for the entire organization, and more frequently for selected positions as necessary. In 2011, CCAF's Board of Directors hired a separate compensation consultant to review the total compensation of CCAF's four executive managers and to compare the compensation to appropriate benchmarks. Based on the consultant's report, the Board of Directors approved new compensation levels in 2011 for CCAF's four executive managers.
