Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Patient Care GLHF advances the comprehensive care for people with bleeding disorders through its support of an integrated regional network of hemophilia treatment centers through a grant from HRSA. The design of the hemophilia treatment care network provides patients with access to multiple disciplines, each of which has specific expertise in bleeding disorder care. The hemophilia model has been one of the most successfully managed public health programs in the United States. The substantial socioeconomic benefits of comprehensive services for the hemophilia population are well documented and include increased employment, fewer days lost from work and school, decreased hospital in-patient-days, increased numbers of patients with third-party coverage, lower cost of care, and decreased health care resource utilization. More importantly, studies indicate that persons receiving care through the hemophilia treatment center network have a 40% reduction in risk of death despite having more severe clinical symptoms compared to those receiving non-treatment-center care.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Research GLHF supports the systematic coordinated assessment and recording of health outcomes of individuals with bleeding disorders in a national database. GLHF is a sub-grantee of the American Thrombosis and Hemostasis Network (ATHN) for the CDC Surveillance project. This database monitors the health of the bleeding disorders population with the goal of optimized quality of life for those affected by bleeding disorders.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Public Education GLHF supports a comprehensive network of health professionals and patients & their families in providing public education about bleeding disorders. Health care professionals- through the federal grant supported regional network - educate teachers, coaches, emergency room personnel, dentists and other individuals who provide support to individuals with bleeding disorders to ensure safe and healthy outcomes for their patients. In addition, GLHF volunteers attend health fairs and other events to heighten the public's understanding of bleeding disorders and the symptoms to encourage women, in particular, to seek medical support for otherwise potentially undiagnosed conditions. GLHF also supports a strong volunteer advocacy program which educates legislators and other public officials on the interests and challenges related to public policy issues.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 2	GLHF supports individuals with bleeding disorders by providing financial assistance to offset medical bills, insurance costs and travel to medical appointments and clinics. Individuals are categorized by federal poverty level based on income statements. Grant amounts are adjusted based on the poverty level of the individual. Invoices are required for payment. Most payments are made directly to the healthcare provider or insurance company on behalf of the individual. Travel expenses are supported through small gas cards and taxi vouchers and distributed by the treatment centers when individuals have appointments. Educational scholarships and camp scholarships require application by individuals. Educational scholarship recipients must send verification of acceptance by the educational institution. Scholarship awards are sent directly to the institution. Recipients are required to submit semester-end grades to complete the process and be considered for future assistance. Camp scholarship requests are submitted prior to camp. GLHF offers a WI camp for kids in Camp Klotty Pine. The camp submits invoices directly to GLHF. GLHF makes payments directly to the camp on behalf of the individuals. Financial support is provided to individuals to assist with basic living needs in extraordinary circumstances. GLHF requires household income statements and verification of outstanding bills to consider assistance appropriateness and assistance level. In most instances payments are made directly to a service provider or support is provided through gift cards to grocery stores. The federal grants are administered to the specifications and requirements of HRSA and the CDC. Staff has frequent contact with grantees and reports are required. Payments are made when invoices are submitted by the grantees. A full accounting of the grant is submitted with the required level of detail to the governmental agencies at the end of the year.
