SCHEDULE H, PART VI, LINE 5	The hospital sponsors an annual health and wellness fair every spring with free or reduced cost screenings and a variety of educational booths by hospital departments and community partners. Diabetes educators provide free screenings and education during a diabetes health event for the community held every November. In addition, the diabetes educators offer a monthly open house for anyone from the public seeking diabetes information. Free ongoing educational programs on health topics, known as Healthy Connections, are held throughout the year featuring topics such as diabetes, nutrition, heart disease and Medicare. A breast cancer education and fellowship event is held every October. In addition, the hospital participates in the annual American Cancer Society Relay for Life event by serving a free meal to all participating cancer survivors to kick off the Relay event. People Caring for People provides in-home assessments and educational resources to each family with a newborn who resides in Gage County. The home visitation program promotes positive parenting skills. A partnership of Beatrice Community Hospital, the Salvation Army and the Beatrice Community Hospital Foundation, along with service organization donations, sponsor Ready, Set, Go!, an annual back-to-school program. Some of the items given away include a book bag, school supplies, shampoo, soap, school physicals, haircut vouchers, clothing vouchers, shoe discount coupons, health information and more. The hospital gives away bottles of water at the Gage County Fair and during Homestead Days celebration activities during the summer as a way to reduce dehydration and health-related issues experienced by community members during these hot summer outdoor activities. Hospice conducts a Grief Education and Support Program for those people in the community who have lost a loved one to death. This program is held on a quarterly basis. An educational program for first-graders is offered every spring. Area schools are invited to bring their first-graders to the hospital to become familiar with the hospital, learn about common childhood health concerns such as a broken arm, and meet doctors and nurses. In-kind and employee support was given to a variety of local healthcare-related organizations and activities, such as United Way, Beatrice Public Schools Backpack Program, Alzheimers Memory Walk, Mother to Mother Ministry, Public Health Solutions Public Health Department, Great Strides for Cystic Fibrosis, Mosaic, Blue Valley Behavioral Health, Walk to Prevent Suicide, etc. The hospital sponsors an informational radio program that covers general healthcare topics of interest to the community, such as organ donation, stress during the holidays, diabetes, heart health, etc. The hospital works with colleges and universities to serve as a training site for nursing and other health-care related jobs. The hospital has an extensive job shadowing program for high school and college students interested in healthcare. The hospital is a certified American Heart Association training site, and provides CPR and other training to local businesses and Emergency Services. Staff also participate in teaching Hands Only CPR to fifth-graders at the annual Progressive Agriculture Safety Day. The hospital invites the Red Cross Bloodmobile Bus to visit the hospital campus several times a year and encourages employees to donate blood during work hours to support the healthcare industry's ongoing need for blood supplies around the country. The hospital conducted a Community Health Needs Assessment and Action Plan.
