Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	stees VMC, in affiliation with the Brody School of Medicine, which is owned by the state of North Carolina, operates 30 resident-training programs with over 400 medical residents. This relationship enables VMC and the Brody School of Medicine to combine their resources for the provision of quality patient care, medical education and research for the residents of Eastern North Carolina. The Brody School of Medicine has three important goals: educating primary care physicians, making medical care more readily available to the people of Eastern North Carolina, and providing opportunities to minority and disadvantaged students. As a non-profit organization, VH reinvests all excess of revenues over expenses in programs, services, and facilities that provide access to patient care and health services to the citizens of Eastern Carolina. Overview of Vidant Health Company Benefit Programs 1 Eastern North Carolina is comprised of 14 million people living in 14,000 square miles. Boundaries are from I-95 east to the coast, and from the Virginia line up to and including Onslow County. The area is largely rural and largely poor, with higher than state or national average rates for poverty and uninsured. Health status indicators show increased incidence of disease in the region, especially cancer, heart disease and stroke. VH determines priorities for target populations by working in concert with medical and community agency partners in ongoing assessment of the most pressing health care needs. Many efforts over the past decade have focused on diabetes, pediatric asthma, school health, injury prevention, access to care, nutrition enhancement, physical activities and chronic disease screenings. Also, special programs to manage the care of Medicaid enrollees, address access to both medical care and medications for the uninsured, and coordination of services for children with obesity have been undertaken. The populations that are served by addressing these issues are largely the poor, the underserved, and minorities. Determination of specific populations to address occurs when partners such as the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services, local health departments, county Healthy Carolinian task forces, and physicians identify a quantifiable need, and community partners are engaged to work together with the health system. 2 Funding for community health programs is obtained from both the operating funds of VH entities and external grant-awarding organizations. The VH board annually provides financial support for the community benefit initiatives program of its foundation. These funds are then awarded to community agencies that successfully demonstrate both need and a well-designed plan to address one of the foundation's priority categories. In addition, each VH hospital financially supports community health resources within its operating budget. Programs vary according to the hospital's financial ability and community need, but all include collaboration

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	orative efforts with local health departments, including health screenings and education t o targeted populations VH also has a successful track record of obtaining community healt h program support from external agencies that award grant funding to approve projects The VH grants office was established in 2008 and serves as the central point from grant minin g, acquisition and management of grants awarded to VH hospitals from community-based progr ams Grant funds are utilized to demonstrate the effectiveness of a proposed community pro gram, measure the outcomes achieved, and garner long-term sustainability from either the h ealth system, other community agencies or as a collaborative program Many community healt h programs are collaborative in nature with local service agencies, and often a portion of the grant funds are used to support resources or services in these agencies 3 Community health priorities are determined in several ways In partnership with the local health de partments, the results of state-mandated community health assessments are studied by each local Healthy Carolinians task force Those task force groups then compile a list of the m ost pressing issues in their communities based on data community input Both established r esources within various agencies and potential opportunities to garner new support are rev iewed

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	4 Community priorities are also established in response to a compelling need identified by health practitioners or community groups. Examples include the pediatric asthma program that has been in place for over 10 years in Pitt County, and expanded to other communities in the region. This major community-based program was established following a plea for assistance by pediatricians and pediatric clinical nurse specialists caring for children with asthma in the acute care setting. The Pitt County School system and local parents identified a lack of health care support in the schools, resulting in an award-winning school nurse program that has been replicated in several counties. Most recently, the focused attention on pediatric obesity and associated diseases has resulted in multiple community-based programs directed at improving nutrition, physical activity, and case management for that population. VH is fortunate to have a strong collaborative partnership with East Carolina University, and works closely with the schools within the health sciences division, especially the Brody School of Medicine. BSOM is an active participant in almost every community health initiative, supporting the research and evaluation of these programs, and contributes to programs for the under and uninsured in multiple ways. ECU and other educational institutions whose students matriculate through VH facilities also provide opportunities for collaboration and participation in various community health initiatives. 5 Provided below are a few highlights of the community benefit and education activities: - a Community Health Improvement Services - Community health improvement services are programs and services that meet an identified need and are offered to the community at little or no charge. VH hospitals sponsor programs that improve access to health care for the underserved and enhance the identification and management of chronic diseases, such as cancer, diabetes and heart disease. Here are a few examples of these programs: - Medication assistance programs for uninsured patients - The Pediatric Healthy Weight Program - Support for Healthy Carolinians collaboratives, including Pitt Partners for Health, the Hertford Partnership for Health and Three Rivers Healthy Carolinians - School nurse programs - Support for the Community Care Plan of Eastern Carolina for Medicaid recipients and HealthAssist for the uninsured - Support of local Federally Qualified Health Center b Health Professional Education - preparing future health care professionals is important to us. Our hospitals provide clinical settings for students of health professions, such as future physicians, nurses and other allied health professionals. We also support students through deferred forgivable loans and internships including resident training, nursing clinic sites, allied health professionals, and financial support of nursing programs. - c Research - East Carolina University (ECU) conducts research to evaluate

VH supports this through various means including supporting the institutional review board at ECU and providing study sites. Financial and In-Kind Contributions - VH donates money and in-kind services to community groups and activities that share our mission of improving health. They include Meals on Wheels, American Red Cross blood drives, medical supplies to emergency medical services, and free medication to qualifying patients. VH hospitals are key partners in fundraising for organizations such as the United Way, American Heart Association, Juvenile Diabetes Association and the American Cancer Society. VH contributed $700,000 to the Community Benefits Grants Program which awards grants to local non-profits for health related programs. Community Building - Community-building activities include programs that are not directly related to health care but address underlying issues that impact the health of communities. Poverty, crime, homelessness, workforce development and economic development all affect the overall health of communities. VH has provided support for our local Chambers of Commerce, financial support for road improvements, investments in communication infrastructure via information technology connections, support for the teen leadership academy, recruitment of physicians to our rural communities, and programs that encourage students to pursue health careers.
