Gallery and Media Center: Artists-In-Residence, as agreed to in their contract, donate one or two prints to the organization. Although it is not the mission of the organization to maintain a collection, it does so in order to provide a historical perspective. The organization retains the right to sell, as necessary, any inventory items. Each year, at auction or as requests for sales are received, inventory items are deaccessioned and sold if more than one print of an artist is available. At the time they are donated, a fair value is established, and the organization makes a reasonable estimate based on, if available, outside sources. The average fair value of a print is $480. The total value of the collections is listed on the balance sheet.

Part III, Line 4 - Description Of Organization Collections & How Furthers Exempt Purpose

The print and media study center is open to the public at the same hours of the Gallery.

Part X - FIN 48 Footnote

The Organization, as part of a group exemption granted to Advaita Society, is exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, the Organization was informed, in a letter dated March 8, 1977, that it is exempt under Section 23701(d) of the California Revenue and Taxation Code.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Organization and recognize a tax liability or asset if the Organization has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service or the Franchise Tax Board. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Organization, and has concluded that, as of September 30, 2017, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or asset or disclosure in the financial statements. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in question. Management believes it is no longer subject to tax examinations for years prior to September 30, 2012.
